Creative Industries and Innovation in Europe Luciana Lazzeretti,2013 In recent years the study of creativity has shifted from analysis of culture as an end in itself to one of economic enhancement and its capability to generate wealth and promote economic development Increasingly European cities and regions are using the arts to fuel wellbeing and reinvigorate economies after the comparative demise of more traditional industry and manufacturing A growing literature is starting to highlight the innovation capacity of cultural and creative industries CCIs as they intersect the innovation processes of other manufacturing and services sectors with an innovative and creative output Culture and creativity may be a strategic weapon to exit the present crisis and redefine an economic model of sustainable development This book brings together a set of multidisciplinary contributions to investigate the kaleidoscope of European creativity focussing on CCIs and the innovations connected with them The two main questions that this volume aims to address are How can we identify map and define CCIs in Europe And how do they contribute to innovation and sustainable growth The volume is split into two parts The first part deals with the definition measurement and mapping of the geography of European CCIs according to a local economic approach focussing on Italy Spain the UK Austria Denmark and France This section surveys the different industrial typologies and spatial patterns which underline a significant dissimilarity between the North and the South of Europe mainly due to the difference between heritage driven and technology driven countries The section concludes with a case study on a Japanese creative city The second part collects some interesting cases of innovation generated in creative spaces such as cities of art or creative clusters and networks This entails the study of innovations among creative and non creative sectors e g laser technologies in conservation of works of art and design networks in Italy and across European and non European countries e g Spaghetti Western movies in the US or visual artists in New Zealand Finally an innovation capacity of culture that can regenerate mature sectors e g the French food supply chain and Swiss watch Valley or combine the creative and green economics paradigms e g the green creative cities in North Europe is analyzed This book will appeal to academics scholars and practitioners of urban and regional studies cultural and creative economics and managerial and organization studies

Food and Health Viviane Clavier,Jean-Philippe De Oliveira,2019-05-24 Food is a major health issue the links between diet and health are dominant in nutrition discourse and practice Food and Health Actor Strategies in Information and Communication identifies the informational practices of nutrition professionals and consumers to study the structural elements of food and health It analyzes the communication strategies of actors and the dissemination and use of information related to both food for health and health through food The book considers nutrition from the point of view of public policies educational organizations preventive measures consumers and patients Tourism Experiences and Animal

Consumption Carol Kline,2018-01-17 This book provides an interdisciplinary discussion of animals as a source of food within the context of tourism It focuses on a range of ethical issues associated with the production and consumption of animal foods highlighting the different ways in which animals are valued and utilised within different cultural and economic contexts This book brings together food studies of animals with tourism and ethics forming an important contribution to the wider conversation of human animal studies Popular Culture as Everyday Life Dennis Waskul,Phillip

Vannini,2015-11-19 In Popular Culture and Everyday Life Phillip Vannini and Dennis Waskul have brought together a variety of short essays that illustrate the many ways that popular culture intersects with mundane experiences of everyday life Most essays are written in a reflexive ethnographic style primarily through observation and personal narrative to convey insights at an intimate level that will resonate with most readers Some of the topics are so mundane they are legitimately universal sleeping getting dressed going to the bathroom etc others are common enough that most readers will directly identify in some way watching television using mobile phones playing video games etc while some topics will appeal more or less depending on a reader s gender interests and recreational pastimes putting on makeup watching the Super Bowl homemaking etc This book will remind readers of their own similar experiences provide opportunities to reflect upon them in new ways as well as compare and contrast how experiences relayed in these pages relate to lived experiences The essays will easily translate into rich and lively classroom discussions that shed new light on a familiar taken for granted everyday life both individually and collectively At the beginning of the book the authors have provided a grid that shows the topics and themes that each article touches on This book is for popular culture classes and will also be an asset in courses on the sociology of everyday life ethnography and social psychology Smart Cities Antoine Picon,2015-10-19 As cities compete globally the Smart City has been touted as the important new strategic driver for regeneration and growth Smart Cities are employing information and communication technologies in the quest for sustainable economic development and the fostering of new forms of collective life This has made the Smart City an essential focus for engineers architects urban designers urban planners and politicians as well as businesses such as CISCO IBM and Siemens Despite its broad appeal few comprehensive books have been devoted to the subject so far and even fewer have tried to relate it to cultural issues and to assume a truly critical stance by trying to decipher its consequences on urban space and experience This cultural and critical lens is all the more important as the Smart City is as much an ideal permeated by Utopian beliefs as a concrete process of urban transformation This ideal possesses a strong self fulfilling character our cities will become Smart because we want them to This book opens with an examination of the technological reality on which Smart Cities are built from the chips and sensors that enable us to monitor what happens within the infrastructure to the smartphones that connect individuals Through these technologies the urban space appears as activated almost sentient This activation generates two contrasting visions on the one hand a neo cybernetic ambition to steer the city in the most efficient way and on the other a more bottom up participative approach in which empowered individuals invent new modes of cooperation A thorough analysis of these two trends reveals them to be complementary The Smart City of the near future will result from their mutual adjustment In this process urban space plays a decisive role Smart Cities are contemporary with a spatial turn of the digital Based on key technological developments like geo localisation and augmented reality the rising importance of space explains the strategic role of mapping in the evolution of the urban experience Throughout this exploration of some of the key dimensions of the Smart City this book constantly moves from the technological to the spatial as well as from a critical assessment of existing experiments to speculations on the rise of a new form of collective intelligence In the future cities will become smarter in a much more literal way than what is often currently assumed
