Parliamentary Papers Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons, 1869 Chapter 2 Allocations Plan for the State of California ,1994 The London County Council Gazette ,1907 From GCSEs to EBCs Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Education Committee, 2013 The Government s plans for replacing GCSEs with new English Baccalaureate Certificates in some subjects is trying to do too much too fast Introducing several fundamental changes at the same time and to a tight timetable will jeopardise the quality of the reforms and may threaten the stability of the wider exam system GCSEs need significant improvements in order to restore public confidence in the exam system but the Government still needs to make the case that the GCSE brand is so discredited that it is beyond repair MPs are also concerned about the impact of the changes on subjects outside the English Baccalaureate where students will be taking GCSEs for some time to come according to the Government's plans. The report also questions how well the Government's proposals will serve lower attaining pupils who are often the most disadvantaged. There is no evidence that the proposed changes will help to tackle under achievement or narrow the attainment gap between the richest and poorest students any more effectively than GCSEs. The Government is also called upon to re think its plans for a Statement of Achievement specifically for lower attaining pupils. MPs agree that changes are needed to the way in which exams are run but they raise serious concerns about franchising subjects to exam boards. The report is critical of the Government's decision to abolish some GCSEs before publishing the outcomes of the National Curriculum Review and its proposed changes to the school accountability system. MPs also note the wide ranging stakeholder opposition to many of the Government's proposals. Paper Trade Journal, 1921 Research in Education, 1973 Sessional Papers British Columbia. Parliament, 1943 The Mathematics of Models for Climatology and Environment Jesus I. Diaz, 2013-06-29 This book is the culmination of the NATO Advanced Study Institute on The Mathematics of Models for Climatology and Environment which was held at Puerto de la Cruz Tenerife Spain during 11-21 January 1995. One of the main goals of the ASI was to establish a bridge between mathematical modellers on the one hand and physical oceanographers and climatologists on the other. The book is divided into four parts containing a total of 16 chapters. Parts I, II and III are devoted to general models and Part IV to models related to some local problems. Most of the mathematical models here considered involve systems of nonlinear partial differential equations. The mathematical treatment covers a large list of subjects: existence and uniqueness for well posed problems, large time behaviour, stability, bifurcation diagrams, equilibria, conditions for the occurrence of interfaces or free boundaries, numerical algorithms and its implementation, controllability of the problems etc. I thank Jacques Louis Lions and Cornelius Johannes van Duijn for their guidance and collaboration as co-directors of the ASI. I also thank J. F. Padial and G. Diaz for their help in the planning and conduct of the ASI as well as in the preparation of this book. Dun's International Review, 1921 Everyday
