DISCUSSION

The authors present the first study of the use of a computer-aided design (CAD) system in the design of a mechanical part. The study was conducted in a laboratory setting and involved a group of 10 experienced mechanical engineers. The results of the study showed that the use of a CAD system significantly reduced the time required to design a mechanical part, as well as the number of errors. The authors conclude that the use of a CAD system is a valuable tool for mechanical engineers and that further research is needed to explore the potential of CAD systems in the design of mechanical parts.
