Teaching the Empire Scott O. Moore, 2020-05-15 Teaching the Empire explores how Habsburg Austria utilized education to cultivate the patriotism of its people Public schools have been a tool for patriotic development in Europe and the United States since their creation in the nineteenth century On a basic level this civic education taught children about their state while also articulating the common myths heroes and ideas that could bind society together For the most part historians have focused on the development of civic education in nation states like Germany France and the United Kingdom There has been an assumption that the multinational Habsburg Monarchy did not or could not use their public schools for this purpose Teaching the Empire proves this was not the case Through a robust examination of the civic education curriculum used in the schools of Habsburg from 1867 1914 Moore demonstrates that Austrian authorities attempted to forge a layered identity rooted in loyalties to an individual's home province national group and the empire itself Far from seeing nationalism as a zero sum game where increased nationalism decreased loyalty to the state officials felt that patriotism could only be strong if regional and national identities were equally strong The hope was that this layered identity would create a shared sense of belonging among populations that may not share the same cultural or linguistic background Austrian civic education was part of every aspect of school life from classroom lessons to school events This research revises long standing historical notions regarding civic education within Habsburg and exposes the complexity of Austrian identity and civil society deservedly integrating the Habsburg Monarchy into the broader discussion of the role of education in modern society The Status of Student Involvement in University Governance in Kenya Mulinge, Munyae M.,Arasa, Josephine N.,2017-05-05 This book examines the concept of the democratization of governance in universities in Kenya with particular emphasis on students involvement in governance processes and decision making Data were collected from members of the student community utilizing a structured self administered questionnaire and from purposively selected key informants and focus group discussants drawn from Kenyatta University representing the public sector and the United States International University representing the private sector The guiding argument for the study was that shared governance one of the principles of good governance is critical in enabling the universities to deliver their visions and the missions effectively The results revealed that while in principle Kenyan universities have embraced democratic governance in which all stakeholders including students have a role to play in practice they continue to violate the core principles of good governance particularly shared governance Specifically students who are major stakeholders in university education are largely excluded from significant structures of governance thereby limiting their influence and participation Although their representation is mainly provided via student self governance organs unions associations and or councils their effectiveness is undermined considerably by the lack of trust and confidence of the student body and the unending manipulation by top university administrators and external political actors Student active involvement in decision making is mainly confined to lower levels such as the school faculty and departmental programme The authors call for a paradigm shift in the involvement of students in the governance of universities in ways that discourage the current culture of tokenism and political correctness that characterizes public and private universities in Kenya Promoting Entrepreneurship to Reduce Graduate Unemployment Katono, Isaac Wasswa,2022-04-01 Based on recognition evaluation and exploitation of opportunities entrepreneurship is a process that stimulates economic growth provides us with new products and services and serves as a solution to low unemployment rates Hence many governments encourage their citizens to embrace entrepreneurship as a strategy to mitigate unemployment particularly youth and graduate unemployment While studies show that entrepreneurship education has yielded positive results in Western countries in other parts of the world it seems that most students still prefer to seek paid employment in their career of choice Promoting Entrepreneurship to Reduce Graduate Unemployment seeks to expand understanding of the barriers that face graduates in becoming entrepreneurs in various countries examining the role of educational institutions in promoting graduate entrepreneurship and evaluating governments as well as other schemes that promote graduate entrepreneurship Although it will not be a panacea for all the obstacles that impede graduate entrepreneurship it is hoped that this book will illuminate the entrepreneurship career path serve as a platform for further diagnosis for reducing graduate unemployment and highlight areas in need of further research Covering topics such as entrepreneurial self efficacy career choice and educated unemployment it serves as a dynamic resource for educators educational administration and faculty government institutions graduate students student organizations professionals researchers and academicians
