Forest Conservation Genetics Andrew Graham Young,2000 Basic genetic principles Genetic processes Threats to in situ genetic conservation Domestication and ex situ genetic conservation Monitoring socioeconomics and policy Ecological Sustainability for Non-timber Forest Products Charlie M. Shackleton,Ashok K. Pandey,Tamara Ticktin,2015-03-24 There is growing knowledge about and appreciation of the importance of Non timber Forest Products NTFPs to rural livelihoods in developing countries and to a lesser extent developed countries However there is also an assumption on the part of policy makers that any harvesting of wild animal or plant products from the forests and other natural and modified ecosystems must be detrimental to the long term viability of target populations and species This book challenges this idea and shows that while examples of such negative impacts certainly exist there are also many examples of sustainable harvesting systems for NTFPs The chapters review and present coherent and scientifically sound information and case studies on the ecologically sustainable use of NTFPs They also outline a general interdisciplinary approach for assessing the sustainability of NTFP harvesting systems at different scales A wide range of case studies is included from Africa Asia and South America using plant and animal products for food crafts textiles medicines and cosmetics

Wood Microbiology Robert A. Zabel,Jeffrey J. Morrell,2012-12-02 An in depth examination of deterioration caused by fungi and other microorganisms Wood Microbiology explores the major damages to wood and wood products during growth harvesting storage and conversion to finished lumber The characteristics causes detection effects and control measures for wood damage are stressed Reviews characteristics classification and metabolism of fungi responsible for wood deterioration and discoloration Examines the anatomical structural and chemical features of decay Covers effects of decay on physical and structural properties of wood Presents methods for preventing biodegradation and for preserving wood Extensively classroom tested suitable for a two quarter or one semester course Each chapter contains a summary and detailed references     Humans, Horses and Events Management Katherine Dashper, Guðrún Helgadóttir, Ingibjörg Sigurðardóttir, 2021-03-12 Horses are perhaps the most common non human animal to feature in planned events but although there is considerable research on equestrian sport there is virtually none on equestrian events This book begins to address this gap using the National Championships of the Icelandic Horse as an extended case study to explain in depth the process of managing an event as well as the larger theoretical implications of events management Drawing on diverse viewpoints and theoretical perspectives the book draws wider comparisons to connect events management to larger themes in the social sciences such as human animal relations nationalism place branding event impacts event experience and inclusion and exclusion The book is a contribution to two fields In relation to human animal studies it focuses on how the Icelandic horse breed is marketed and celebrated through top tier competition whereas from an events management perspective it considers the role of the event in community building the practical and theoretical aspects of running a sustainable equestrian event and the issues that arise in multispecies event contexts     Light-frame Wall and Floor Systems Gerald E.
