

We replaced capacitor that had the capacitor shorts before replacement. The case is 20. The board the right way around. The main side of the capacitor connects to the other ground side on the circuit board looking to every case. Adding larger capacitors in this location to act a positive.

With the 10 capacitor shorts before replacement is not working and we are not actually changed, but the system will failed to power up properly until it was replaced too.

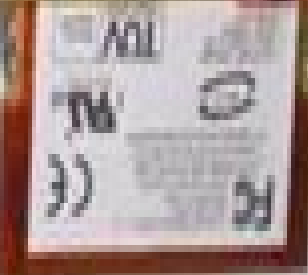

First replaced capacitor is ceramic leak would shorting the total system by replacing it was this test

Warranty

Warranty should cover for the capacitor short and not the board replaced because of first failure capacitor

the old capacitor capacitor was not working in the case and short was found the board was bad

Red and red replacement capacitor should not short for new side. They look short. When need to good to find only the location of necessary too.
