Donald Heller, Claire Callender

Heslb Guide 2013:

Funding Higher Education in Sub-Saharan Africa D. Teferra, 2013-10-08 Virtually all countries in the world are struggling to provide the necessary resources to Higher Education The challenges are particularly complex for economically poor countries in Africa which have recorded massive expansion in the past decade This book analyzes the state of funding and financing higher education in Sub Saharan Africa Student Financing of Higher Education Donald Heller, Claire Callender, 2013-06-07 The financing of higher education is undergoing great change in many countries around the world In recent years many countries are moving from a system where the costs of funding higher education are shouldered primarily by taxpayers through government subsidies to one where students pay a larger share of the costs There are a number of factors driving these trends including A push for massification of higher education in the recognition that additional revenue streams are required above and beyond those funds available from governments in order to achieve higher participation rates Macroeconomic factors which lead to constraints on overall government revenues Political factors which manifest in demands for funding of over services thus restricting the funding available for higher tertiary education A concern that the returns to higher education accrue primarily to the individual rather than to society and thus students should bear more of the burden of paying for it This volume will help to contribute to an understanding of how these trends occur in various countries and regions around the world and the impact they have on higher education institutions students and society as a whole With contributions for the UK USA South Africa and China this vital new book gives a truly global picture of the rapidly changing situation
