defines intellectual property as creations of the mind which includes inventions literary and creative works as well as symbols names pictures and designs utilized in commercial transactions The organization recognizes two different categories of intellectual property namely Industrial and copyright and establishes a difference between the two The first kind of intellectual property is often the sort that is held by enterprises inventions industrial designs etc while the second type of intellectual property relates to creative productions such as original literature or music This book takes an industrial approach to the concept of intellectual property concentrating on the legal actions and preventive safety measures that a company can take to preserve its intellectual property both now and in the future This book takes a methodical approach to discussing how to file for and defend various types of intellectual property as well as the associated techno legal concepts It brings together the fundamental ideas behind all different kinds of intellectual property rights IPR as well as the procedures for registering them and the regulations governing their use The protection of intellectual assets is more challenging than the protection of other kinds of properties because intellectual properties are intangible It is common practice to use the word intellectual property in legal contexts in order to protect the rights of artists and inventors because of the monetary connotations of the term By granting artists and inventors exclusive rights to their work for a certain amount of time

COVID-19 and women's intersectionalities in Africa Ashwanee Budoo-Scholtz,Adetokunbo Johnson,2023-05-23 COVID 19 has become one of the most severe issues dominating discussions on the agendas of states globally and across the African continent since its emergence in 2019 The COVID 19 pandemic has regrettably brought into sharp focus the continued multiple and intersecting forms of discrimination faced by women and girls in Africa because of their intersecting identities Yet paradoxically although African women are disproportionately affected by the crisis they are largely invisible in the responses Several African states and governments have taken different policy measures in response to the pandemic These responses have taken different dimensions including shutting down economies imposition of lockdowns coercive quarantine measures with police enforcement and criminal consequences for offenders violating these rules Unfortunately these responses have reinforced and amplified women s disproportionate disadvantage and gender inequalities in Africa Against this backdrop this book asks the intersectional question about women s experiences during the COVID 19 pandemic in Africa Applying an intersectional human rights lens involves questioning how the intersecting identities that African women embody affect their experiences of the COVID 19 pandemic
