Mathematics Dbe November 2014

Cekiso, Madoda, Olifant, Florence, Mokhtari, Kouider

Mathematics Dbe November 2014:

Caught in the Act Cyril Julie, Lorna Holtman, Charles R. Smith, 2019-12-11 The research reported in Caught in the Act draws together the insights gained from a continuous professional development initiative for high school mathematics teachers teaching in low socio economic status and socially challenged environments in South Africa The chapters show the possibilities for enhancing achievement in school mathematics if a strength based approach is adopted to develop teaching with teachers and when their concerns are taken seriously The book demonstrates that the ecological relevance fitness for the context in which teachers are teaching of the goods developed and distributed by initiatives should be a major consideration to offer hope for sustainable implementation to improve school mathematics education The book is of interest to mathematics teachers school leaders mathematics curriculum advisors policy makers and researchers The

Correspondence of Charles Darwin: Volume 23, 1875 Charles Darwin, 2015-12-03 This volume is part of the definitive edition of letters written by and to Charles Darwin the most celebrated naturalist of the nineteenth century Notes and appendixes put these fascinating and wide ranging letters in context making the letters accessible to both scholars and general readers Darwin depended on correspondence to collect data from all over the world and to discuss his emerging ideas with scientific colleagues many of whom he never met in person The letters are published chronologically Volume 23 includes letters from 1875 the year in which Darwin wrote and published Insectivorous plants a botanical work that was a great success with the reading public and started writing Cross and self fertilisation in the vegetable kingdom The volume contains an appendix on the 1875 anti vivisection debates with which Darwin was closely involved giving evidence before a Royal Commission on the subject Learning to teach in post-apartheid South Africa Yusuf Sayed, Nazir Carrim, Azeem

Badroodien, Zahraa McDonald, Marcina Singh, 2018-11-28 Teacher education programmes seek to provide student teachers with the knowledge and expertise to provide quality teaching and learning in a diverse and challenging school context Learning to Teach in post apartheid South Africa Student Teachers Encounters with Initial Teacher Education addresses the complexities of teacher education programmes in preparing students to teach It adds to the knowledge about teacher education contributing critical understanding of education and the schooling system The book provides important insights to deepen researchers academics teacher education providers policy makers and students understanding of the importance to address equity redress and quality in South African education in a post apartheid era This book further helps to build student teachers capacities to work creatively and to become active and critical agents of transformation It ultimately outlines the challenges face in designing and delivering successful Initial Teacher Education programmes and the impact this has on delivering equitable and quality education Research for Educational Change Jill Adler, Anna Sfard, 2016-06-17

Research for Educational Change presents ways in which educational research can fulfil its commitments to educational practice Focussing its discussion within the context of mathematics education it argues that while research generated insights can have beneficial effects on learning and teaching the question of how these effects are to be generated and sustained is far from evident The question of how to turn research into educational improvement is discussed here in the context of learning and teaching hindered by poverty and social injustice In the first part of the book four teams of researchers use different methodologies while analysing the same corpus of data collected in a South African mathematics classroom In the second part each of these teams makes a specific proposal about what can be done and how so that its research generated insights have a tangible beneficial impact on what is happening in mathematical classrooms Combining two discourses that of researchers speaking to one another and that of researchers communicating their insights to those responsible for educational practice the book deals with the perennial question of communication between those who study educational processes and those who are directly responsible for teacher education educational research and classroom practices This book will be key reading for postgraduates researchers and academics in education and particularly in the areas of mathematics education education research teacher education and classroom practice It will also appeal to teacher educators practitioners and undergraduate students interested in educational research

Annual Report Mpumalanga (South Africa). Department of Education, 2015 Leading Change in Teacher Education Thuwayba Al Barwani, Maria Assunção Flores, David Imig, 2018-12-12 The international attempt to expand schooling despite dealing with an insufficient number of trained teachers has placed significant pressure on teacher education Continued effort to change all aspects of teacher education including ways of learning methods of practice

institution interaction and assessment of teaching ability in order to fulfil the desire to offer inclusive and equitable teaching for all is a serious consideration In response to this increased attention on cross national campaigns Leading Change in Teacher Education features discussions covering what has been done how and why the change has happened the journey itself and the challenges encountered along the way alongside contributions from international academics who share their reflections and suggestions for a way forward despite a global shortage of teachers Strategies surrounding the design and delivery of education now centre on improving how teachers are prepared supported and evaluated Leading Change in Teacher Education captures the stories of international change leaders by Providing details of both the successes and challenges faced Presenting innovative practices in teacher education from around the world Describing the strategies put in place to ensure that teacher education is developing The topics discussed are relevant for educators policymakers and international organizations involved in the design and implementation of programmes in teacher education Leading Change in Teacher Education is also an invaluable resource for those looking to increase the changes occurring within teacher education

Future-proofing STEAME education in South Africa Rajendran Govender,Josef de Beer,Rouaan Maarman,Rajendra Chetty,2025-02-28

This book aims to contribute to the discourse of finding innovative solutions to the myriad of challenges facing science education in South Africa The book positions itself in the multi disciplinary focus on Science Technology Engineering Arts Mathematics and Entrepreneurship STEAME education rather than the traditional narrow focus on Science Technology Engineering and Mathematics STEM The chapters in the book explore the challenges and opportunities facing STEAME education in a complex 21st century and at the advent of a society with a strong artificial intelligence component in its DNA The leitmotif of the book is how engaging pedagogies could be utilised in the classroom to enhance self directed learning a sine qua non to future proof South Africa s science and technological advancement This is a book written by scholars for scholars Its target audience includes academics and researchers in the field of science education and scholars engaged with innovative teaching pedagogies particularly approaches that would enhance the achievement of learners in disadvantaged contexts The chapters in the book although eclectic in approach all contribute to the central theme of the book Most of the chapters lean on textual analyses literature reviews or concept papers which disclose new ideas before full validation

Language in Epistemic Access Caroline Kerfoot,Anne-Marie Simon-Vandenbergen,2018-07-26

This book focuses on how to address persistent linguistically structured inequalities in education primarily in relation to South African schools but also in conversation with Australian work and with resonances for other multilingual contexts around the world The book as a whole lays bare the tension between the commitment to multilingualism enshrined in the South African Constitution and language in education policy and the realities of the dominance of English and the virtual absence of indigenous African languages in current educational practices It suggests that dynamic plurilingual pedagogies can be allied with the explicit scaffolding of genre based pedagogies to help redress asymmetries in epistemic access and to re imagine policies pedagogies and practices more in tune with the realities of multilingual classrooms The contributions to this book offer complementary insights on routes to improving access to school knowledge especially for learners whose home language or language variety is different to that of teaching and learning at school All subscribe to similar ideologies which include the view that multilingualism should be seen as a resource rather than a problem in education Commentaries on these chapters highlight evidence based high impact educational responses and suggest that translanguaging and genre may well offer opportunities for students to expand their linguistic repertoires and to bridge epistemological differences between community and school This book was originally published as a special issue of Language and Education
