Tyner, 2023-08-21 There are many how to books on writing for academics none of these however relate specifically to the discipline of geography In this book the author identifies the principle modes of academic writing that graduate students and early career faculty will encounter specifically focusing on those forms expected of geographers that is those modes that are reviewed by academic peers This book is readily accessible to senior undergraduate and graduate students and early career faculty who may feel intimidated by the process of writing This volume is not strictly a how to or step by step manual for writing an article or book rather through the use of real concrete examples from published and unpublished works the author demystifies the process of different types of scholarly pieces geographers have to write with the specific needs and challenges of the discipline in mind Although chapters are thematic based e g stand alone chapters on book reviews articles and books the manuscript is structured around the concept of story telling for it is the author's contention that all writing whether a scientific study or more humanist essay is a form of story telling

The Urban Politics of Policy Failure John Lauermann, Cristina Temenos, 2022-07-28 This book contributes to debates in geography and urban studies by analysing the spatial dimensions and politics of urban policy failure Attention is most often paid to successful urban policies Policymakers go to great lengths to emulate success by importing policy models implementing best practices or pursuing silver bullet solutions Yet stories of failure are at least as common as those of success Some policies fail to launch in the first place Others struggle to deliver their goals Many collapse under the weight of poor administration insufficient funding or political opposition This book establishes a vocabulary and set of analytical approaches for researching the spatial dynamics and impacts of urban policy failure With a geographically diverse set of cases the authors explore topics including policy in mobility urban policy experiments and governance initiatives ranging from sustainability to housing to public health across Europe North America and Asia The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the journal Urban Geography

Rethinking Clusters Silvia Rita Sedita, Silvia Blasi, 2021-05-22 This volume discusses how different geographical spaces can enhance or hinder the capacity of a variety of organizational settings to achieve economic value creation in the pursuit of sustainable regional development In order to provide the most comprehensive picture of new sources of value creation for sustainable transitions the book collects contributions that tackle this issue from a variety of perspectives and adopts a systemic approach where macro meso and micro levels of analysis are intertwined in three sections This multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary approach comes from scholars operating in the fields of planning economic geography social entrepreneurship and organizational management The first section of the book adopts a macro level approach linking sustainability to the regional development theme and addresses how organizations work between different social interests to produce outcomes not previously realized The second section of the book focuses on the spatial dimensions of sustainable development with particular clusters industrial districts and regions considered as relevant units of analysis meso level analysis The third section of the book is dedicated to a micro level approach illustrating how to drive social entrepreneurship activities which are based upon sustainable business models centered in the creation of a shared value The book is geared towards scholars working on sustainable development issues intersecting the disciplines of regional studies economic geography and management and will appeal to geographers and researchers in economic development business innovation and sustainability transitions

Debates in Geography Education Mark Jones, David

Lambert, 2017-09-07 Debates in Geography Education encourages early career teachers, experienced teachers and teacher educators to engage with and reflect on key issues, concepts and debates. It aims to enable readers to reach their own informed judgements with deeper theoretical knowledge and understanding. The second edition is fully updated in light of the latest research, policy and practice in the field as well as key changes to the curriculum and examination specifications. Expert contributors provide a range of perspectives on international, historical and policy contexts in order to deepen our understanding of significant debates in geography education. Key debates include geography's identity as an academic discipline, what constitutes knowledge in geography, places and regional geography, what it means to think geographically, constructing the curriculum, how we link assessment to making progress in geography, the contribution of fieldwork and outdoor experiences, technology and the use of Geographical Information Systems, school geography and employability, understanding the gap between school and university geography, evidence-based practice and research in geography education. The comprehensive, rigorous coverage of these key issues together with carefully annotated selected further reading will help support and shape further research and writing. Debates in Geography Education is a key resource that is essential reading for all teachers and researchers who wish to extend their grasp of the place of geography in education. Mark Jones is Senior Lecturer in Education at the University of the West of England, Bristol, UK. David Lambert is Professor of Geography Education at UCL Institute of Education, London, UK. Handbook on the Geographies of Money and Finance Ron

Martin, Jane Pollard, 2017-03-31 The aim of this timely work, which appears in the wake of the worst global financial crisis since the late 1920s, is to bring together high quality research-based contributions from leading international scholars involved in constructing a geographical perspective on money. Topics covered include the crisis, the spatial circuits of finance, regulation, mainstream financial markets, banking, equity etc, through to the various alternative and disruptive forms of money that have arisen in recent years. It will be of interest to geographers, political scientists, sociologists, economists, planners and all those interested in how money shapes and reshapes socio-economic space and conditions local and regional development.

Handbook on the Geographies of Innovation Richard Shearmur, Christophe Carrincazeaux, David

Doloreux, 2016-11-25 The geography of innovation is changing. Firstly, it is increasingly understood that innovative firms and organizations exhibit a wide variety of strategies, each differently attuned to diverse geographic contexts. Secondly, and concomitantly, the idea that cities, clusters and physical proximity are essential for innovation is evolving under the weight of new theorizing and empirical evidence. The aim of this handbook is to break with the many ideas and concepts that emerged during the course of the 1980s and 1990s and to fully take into account the new reality of the internet, mobile communication technologies, personal mobility and globalization. The handbook gathers a new generation of ideas and authors to contribute to the debate, providing an empirically grounded critical appraisal of the prevailing knowledge on the geography of innovation. The 28 original chapters, written by a diverse range of scholars with widely differing views, present fresh empirical evidence and new perspectives relating to how innovation plays out across space in an age where mobility has increased information is ubiquitous and globalisation has been realised Overall the dialogue between existing theory and new possibilities provides a unique and challenging appraisal of the connection between innovation agglomeration and space Offering cutting edge ideas in an accessible format this will be an ideal resource for students and scholars of economic geography and innovation studies The empirical evidence and analysis will also be of great value for policymakers and government officials Contributors include B T Asheim H W Aslesen A Bain P A Balland N Bradford A Bramwell C Brennan Horley S Breschi C Carraincazeaux C Chaminade R Comunian C De Fuentes D Doloreux D Eckert A Faggian M Ferru R D Fitjar K Flanagan C Gibson M Grillitsch M Grossetti G Harirchi F Huber A Isaksen S Jewel J Karlsen N Komninos J L Klein N Lee F Lissoni M Maisonnobe J Mattes P McCann C T Noumedem R Ortega Argil s M Plechero A Rallet A Rodriguez Pose R Shearmur H L Smith B Spigel J Tallec E Tranos D G Tremblay F T dtling M Trippl E Uyarra C Yang C Wilkie D A Wolfe

The Life Cycle of Clusters Dirk Fornahl,Robert Hassink,2017-04-28 One size fits all cluster policies have been rightly criticized in the literature One promising approach is to focus cluster policies on the specific needs of firms depending on the stage of development emergence growth sustainment or decline their cluster is in In this highly insightful book these stage specific cluster policies are analysed and evaluated Moreover several chapters also focus on smart specialization policies to promote regional development by taking into account the emergence and adaptation of clusters and industries The Data Revolution Rob Kitchin,2021-09-22 Our world is becoming ever more data driven transforming how business is conducted governance enacted and knowledge produced Yet the nature of data and the scope and implications of the changes taking place are not always clear The Data Revolution is a must read for anyone interested in why data have become so important in the contemporary era Thoroughly updated including ten new chapters the book provides an accessible and comprehensive introduction to thinking conceptually about the nature of data and the field of critical data studies overview of big data open data and data infrastructures analysis of the utility and value of big and open data for research business government and civil society assessment of the concerns and risks in a data driven world and how to prevent and mitigate them ICCWS2014-9th International Conference on Cyber Warfare & Security Dr. Sam Liles,2014-03-24 Handbook of Regions and Competitiveness Robert Huggins,Piers Thompson,2017-03-31 The aim of this Handbook is to take stock of regional competitiveness and complementary concepts as a means of presenting a state of the art discussion of the contemporary theories perspectives and empirical explanations that help make sense of the determinants of uneven development across regions Drawing on an international field of leading scholars the book is assembled and organized so that readers can first learn about the theoretical underpinnings of regional competitiveness and development theory before moving on to deeper discussions of key factors and principal elements the emergence of allied concepts empirical applications and the policy context Transculturalism and Teacher Capacity Niranjana Casinader,2019-10-16 Based on new research data with a

135 teacher study over 8 countries this book challenges the assumption that all teachers automatically have the expertise to teach cultural understanding and argues instead that there is the need for teachers to acquire transcultural expertise to teach cultural understanding effectively in the present age rather than depending on current multicultural and intercultural approaches By outlining a new model to teach cultural understanding that is appropriate and relevant this volume focuses on the expertise of teachers to address this gap in current teaching practice Using the framework of education in Britain and its former empire this book traces the role that teachers have played in teaching cultural understanding throughout history and then uses the results of a recent international research project to outline recommendations for teacher education and professional learning that both develop and enhance the ability of teachers to address cultural understanding effectively in their work Transculturalism and Teacher Capacity Professional Readiness in the Globalised Age is the perfect resource for any researcher school leader and educational administrator or those interested in education that prepares teachers to meet the demands of the profession in the current age Social Science Perspectives on Climate Change David

Canter,2017-10-02 Although it is generally accepted that the climate is changing for the worse and that human activities are a major contributing factor in that change there is still only marginal response to the challenge posed by climate change The reasons behind this limited response are becoming clearer through the recognition that climate change is not just a set of physical science facts but it is also part of a series of complex social processes Consequently this book is important in providing social science perspectives on a range of attempts to adjust human activity to reduce its environmental impact These attempts vary from the changing of the dress code in Japanese offices to the creation of zero carbon gated communities in Bangalore India Taken together the contributions to this book provide timely insights into the complexities of saving the planet through human endeavour This book was originally published as a special issue of Contemporary Social Science Building Information Modelling, Building Performance, Design and Smart Construction Mohammad

Dastbaz,Chris Gorse,Alice Moncaster,2017-03-31 This book charts the path toward high performance sustainable buildings and the smart dwellings of the future The volume clearly explains the principles and practices of high performance design the uses of building information modelling BIM and the materials and methods of smart construction Power Systems Architecture Material Science Civil Engineering and Information Systems are all given consideration as interdisciplinary endeavours are at the heart of this green building revolution The Routledge Companion to Global Value Chains Renu

Agarwal,Christopher Bajada,Roy Green,Katrina Skellern,2021-09-30 This Companion provides a review of global value chains GVCs and the megatrends that are shaping them and will continue to reshape them in deep set trajectories of change over the next few decades Megatrends herald both challenges and opportunities With the growing interest among business leaders and researchers in GVCs this is a reference work which fills a gap in current literature by focusing on the new features of GVCs including the shift of global purchasing power towards developing economies the significance of emerging technologies and data analytics the increasing tensions between globalisation and de globalisation and the role of micro multinationals start up entrepreneurs the public sector and middle markets in a fast changing global economy The early chapters are essentially intradisciplinary in character with the first seeking to explore some historical aspects of GVCs Subsequent chapters cover the theory and practice of operations and supply chain management emerging supply chain technologies and the impact of inter firm collaboration across sectors and economies The final chapters take a more interdisciplinary approach and examine topics at the interface of GVCs with the economy society culture and politics This comprehensive handbook provides a timely analysis of leading edge global megatrends and practices in one volume

Geographical Perspectives on International Trade Purva Yadav, 2021-06-29 This book analyzes spatial and temporal patterns of international trade from a geographical perspective Trade is an important key to understanding the changing dynamics of economic spaces over time However studies by geographers are largely confined to case studies whereas the spatial dimension is often missing from the approach of economists This study highlights spatial patterns and commodity composition of global trade and the nature of relationship between trade and other economic attributes A case study of the MERCOSUR trade block examines inter regional and intra regional trade flows The book captures a comprehensive picture of the structure of international exchange by using ample maps and illustrations as supporting features Many different methods are applied such as the location quotient to capture concentration and diversification of commodity composition data reduction techniques such as factor analysis and regression models for relating the economic structures and trade patterns as well as residual mapping among others This book is a significant contribution to geographical economical and social sciences research and very useful to graduate and post graduate students as well as scientists of all related areas who have interest in exploring the changing dynamics of the global economy via trade flows It provides a road map to further explore different dimensions of international trade and its role in understanding the transforming global economy Yojana ,2014
