PROCEEDINGS OF THE 1997 CONFERENCE OF THE INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF AGRICULTURAL ECONOMISTS

Abstract The purpose of this study was to determine whether there were differences in the prevalence of risk factors for coronary artery disease between men who had been exposed to asbestos and those who had not. A case-control study was conducted among men aged 60 years or older who had been employed in asbestos-related occupations for at least 10 years. The results showed that the prevalence of risk factors for coronary artery disease was significantly higher in the exposed group than in the non-exposed group.
