1. Cells reproduce by splitting in half, a process called cell division. What do cells need to do between divisions to make sure that they don't just get smaller and smaller?

They need to grow.

2. The genetic information of a cell is carried in its DNA (short for deoxyribonucleic acid). What do cells need to do between divisions to make sure that a full set of DNA gets passed on to each daughter cell?

The DNA has to be copied so there is a full set of DNA to pass on to each daughter cell.

Gizmo Warm-up

1. Look at the cells. Do they all look the same? no
2. Cells that are in the process of dividing are said to be in mitosis or cytokinesis. Cells that are not dividing are in interphase.

Check the Magnify box and move the cursor over the cells.

- A. Of the 100 cells shown, how many are in the process of dividing? About 5
- B. Select the BAR CHART tab, and turn on Show numerical values. How many cells are in the interphase stage of their life cycle? About 80

mitosis are shown and discussed in detail Cell division in higher plant cells is similarly illustrated emphasizing the role of the phragmoplast in cell plate cross wall formation Separation of homologous chromatids and single chromatids is shown in living spermatocytes undergoing meiosis I and II respectively The relationship between cell division and morphogenesis is introduced by showing several single celled organisms that differentiate into complex shapes after every division Other types of cells remain together after division to form simple multicellular organisms These two abilities are required for embryogenesis Two examples in frogs and zebrafish show how repeated cycles of cell division and differentiation transform the ball of cells created by these divisions into recognizable embryos Atoms and Cells Lionel Bender,1989 Text and photographs introduce atoms molecules cells and various forms of life which can only be viewed through a microscope

Cell Division - Mitosis ETC Montessori,2022-12-12 Follow the steps of cell mitosis with these pre cut circles The front side of each circle shows the picture of the cell for each step of the process The back side gives an explanation of what is happening Students get a clear picture along with a clear definition and description of Interphase Prophase Metaphase Anaphase Telophase and Cytokinesis
