Fine Pitch Surface Mount Technology Phil Marcoux, 2013-11-27 Fine pitch high lead count integrated circuit packages represent a dramatic change from the conventional methods of assembling electronic components to a printed interconnect circuit board To some these FPT packages appear to be an extension of the assembly technology called surface mount or SMT Many of us who have spent a significant amount of time developing the process and design techniques for these fine pitch packages have concluded that these techniques go beyond those commonly used for SMT In 1987 the present author convinced of the uniqueness of the assembly and design demands of these packages chaired a joint committee where the members agreed to use fine pitch technology FPT as the defining term for these demands The committee was unique in several ways one being that it was the first time three U S standards organizations the IPC Lincolnwood IL the EIA Washington D C and the ASTM Philadelphia came together to create standards before a technology was in high demand The term fine pitch technology and its acronym FPT have since become widely accepted in the electronics industry The knowledge of the terms and demands of FPT currently exceed the usage of FPT packaged components but this is changing rapidly because of the size performance and cost savings of FPT I have resisted several past invitations to write other technical texts However I feel there are important advantages and significant difficulties to be encountered with FPT
