

After my hair grew long and bushy, I wanted to cut it. There was no barber shop that spoke any of the languages I know, so I had to do it by myself. I cannot say I did a good job, but it dawned on me how my responsibility was crawling into my young adult life. I felt deserted, like one dropped in the middle of a desert and left to survive. I was on my own. Surviving independently in a foreign land where few of my kind existed, so privileges like a barber shop or family to do things for me were nonexistent. I had finally been left out to fly with my wings, and it took an emotional toll on me.

I traveled to Florence once. Humanity is truly a mass of people with different faces and desires. People there seemed to be doing wherever their passion took them, and they looked happy. It was the kind of place where anybody could be anything. The place where determination takes you places unimaginable. There was busy traffic, many skyscrapers. A lot of businesses. Early ours and late nights of toil. Florence is a place of happening. People were winning in life. There is nothing as beautiful as people doing exactly what they want to do. They radiate some energy and happiness. What matters is your abilities and how well you have refined them. Just that, and you have made it in Florence.

Conclusion

To this point in life, I can confidently say that I have lived. My hike in the Himalayas gave me resilience. I was wasted away, but I kept on going until I was through. It taught me teamwork as I had to keep my family close through it all, helping one another. My few travels left me an open-minded person. I saw how different people lived and in a certain unique order. I came to know the diversity of humanity. Some of those things I shun but I appreciate most. I have come to love the beauty of diversity. I got to find myself after I found out that art was not my specialty after all. Then I found physics, and from then it has been a truck that only goes up. That is the good thing about hitting rock bottom; you can only go up. The International school brought cultures right to my face and fed them to me. I had to live with them and appreciate
