Sidney Gottlieb, Donal Martin, 2021-10-26 When Richard Schickel stated unequivocally in 1972 that We're living in a Hitchcock world all right he did so without even mentioning the film that now stands at the top of the Sight how the film itself is haunted by numerous literary and cinematic forebearers and how it continues to haunt not only filmmakers but artists working in other media as well Essays that concentrate on formative or interpretive contexts of the film including Greek mythology early German cinema film noir an ensemble of mostly French writers and filmmakers and modern and postmodern art are complemented by others that present close readings of hidden details in the film its use of multiple gazes that underscore its meaning and drama the darker sides of even gestures of love and hospitality and how the film embodies Hitchcock's late style Taken together the essays in the volume reinforce how Vertigo is like the majestic trees visited by the two main characters in the film sempervirens an enduring masterpiece of then now and we can safely say the future

Haunted Histories and Troubled Pasts Amanda Howell, Stephanie Green, 2024-04-18 Haunted Histories and Troubled Pasts speaks to how a transnational array of recent screen entertainments participate through horror in public discourses of history the social and creative work of reshaping popular understanding of our world through the lens of the past Contemporary film and television and popular screen cultures more generally are distinguished by their many and varied engagements with history including participation in worldwide movements to reconcile past losses and injuries with present legacies The chapters in this collection address themselves to 21st century screen horror's participation in this widespread fascination with and concern for the historical its recurrent reimagining of the relation between the past and present which is part of its inheritance from the Gothic They are concerned with the historical work of horror's spectral occupations its visceral threats of violence and its capacity for exploring repressed social identities as well as the ruptures and impositions of colonization and nationhood Trauma is a key theme in this book examined through themes of war and genocide ghostly invasions institutionalized abuse apocalyptic threat and environmental destruction These persistent fearful reimaginings of the past can take many lurid sometimes tritely generic forms Together these chapters explore and reflect upon horror s ability to speak through them to the unspoken of history to push the boundaries and probe the fault lines and ideological impositions of received historical narratives while reminding us that history and the historical imagination persist as sites of contention

The Thing Dylan Trigg,2014-08-29 What is the human body Both the most familiar and unfamiliar of things the body is the centre of experience but also the site of a prehistory anterior to any experience Alien and uncanny this other side of the body has all too often been overlooked by phenomenology In confronting this oversight Dylan Trigg s The Thing redefines phenomenology as a species of realism which he terms unhuman phenomenology Far from being the vehicle of a human voice this unhuman phenomenology gives expression to the alien materiality at the limit of experience By fusing the philosophies of Merleau Ponty Husserl and Levinas with the horrors of John Carpenter David Cronenberg and H P Lovecraft Trigg explores the ways in which an unhuman phenomenology positions the body out of time At once a challenge to traditional notions of phenomenology The Thing is also a timely rejoinder to contemporary philosophies of realism The result is nothing less than a rebirth of phenomenology as redefined through the lens of horror
