Government United States. Office of Management and Budget, 2015 Toward Sustainability Through Digital Technologies and Practices in the Eurasian Region Tazhina, Gainiya, Parker, Judith, 2020-03-13 In today's modernized world implementing technology into the infrastructures of communities has become a common custom. The idea of digital economy has proven to be an efficient dynamic and highly adaptable mode of performance and regions across the globe have begun applying these digital approaches to their populated foundation. One region of the world that has recently begun using modern technologies is Eurasia. As they continue their technological transition from theory to practice, significant research is needed on the emergence of sustainability in these countries. Toward Sustainability Through Digital Technologies and Practices in the Eurasian Region is a pivotal reference source that provides vital research on the implementation of digital initiatives within Eurasian countries and their social and economic principles. While highlighting topics such as educational technologies, mobile applications, and sustainable business, this publication explores the cultural aspects and social interaction of digital applications within this region of the world. This book is ideally designed for economists, IT professionals, educators, researchers, social scientists, policymakers, academicians, and students. State, Foreign Operations, and Related Programs Appropriations for 2010, 111-1 Hearings, Part 5, 2010 European Climate Diplomacy in the USA and China Katrin Buchmann, 2022-08-22 Buchmann analyses the work of UK, German, Danish, and Swedish embassies in the USA and China on climate change in the late 2000s and early 2010s. She relates which coalitions and narratives embassies sought to develop to convince China and the United States that a more progressive climate policy was possible to achieve gains supporting an agreement under the UNFCCC. This book shows that a key interpretation of climate diplomacy was selling trade, Europe selling technology solutions to solve climate change. In this narrative, Europe has already done what needs to be done and outsourcing of production to China, e.g., is ignored. In the USA, embassies entered coalitions with states, faith groups, and the military, arguing that a more progressive climate policy was mandated by either God or security concerns. State politicians, including Democrats, often actually didn't implement any climate policies. Any gains were reversed through climate denial lobbying funded by corporations. Embassies did not address this. Authoritarianism in the Middle East J. Karakoç Bakis, Jülide Karakoç, 2015-03-17 Through a unique collection of essays drawn from rich case studies, Authoritarianism in the Middle East provides important insights into the ongoing instabilities of the Middle East and the authoritarianism and democratisation processes that have led to dramatic socio-political transformations. Modern Diplomacy in Practice Robert Hutchings, Jeremi Suri, 2019-09-27 This textbook, the first comprehensive comparative study ever undertaken, surveys and compares the world's ten largest diplomatic services: those of Brazil, China, France, Germany, India, Japan, Russia, Turkey, the United Kingdom, and the United States. Chapters cover the distinctive histories and cultures of the services, their changing role in foreign policy making, and their preparations for the new challenges of the twenty-first century. The Routledge Handbook of Scandinavian Politics Peter Nedergaard, Anders Wivel, 2017-08-09 The Routledge Handbook of Scandinavian
