⦿ AIR BLEEDING OF THE BRAKE FLUID CIRCUIT

Air trapped in the brake fluid circuit acts like a cushion to absorb a large proportion of the pressure developed by the master cylinder and thus interferes with the full braking performance of the brake caliper. The presence of air is indicated by “sponginess” of the brake lever and also by lack of braking force. Considering the danger to which such trapped air exposes the machine and rider, it is essential that, after remounting the brake and restoring the brake system to the normal condition, the brake fluid circuit be purged of air in the following manner :

- Fill the master cylinder reservoir to top of the inspection window. Replace the reservoir cap to prevent dirt from entering it.
- Attach a hose to the air bleeder valve, and insert the free end of the hose into a receptacle.
- Bleed air from the brake system.
- Squeeze and release the brake lever several times in rapid succession and squeeze the lever fully without releasing it. Loosen the bleeder valve by turning it a quarter of a turn so that the brake fluid runs into the receptacle, this will remove the tension of the brake lever causing it to touch the handlebar grip. Then, close the air bleeder valve, pump and squeeze the brake lever, and open the valve. Repeat this process until the fluid flowing into the receptacle no longer contains air bubbles.

NOTE:

While bleeding the brake system, replenish the brake fluid in the reservoir as necessary. Make sure that there is always some fluid visible in the reservoir.

- Close the air bleeder valve, and disconnect the hose. Fill the reservoir with brake fluid to the upper line.

 Front brake caliper air bleeder valve
: 6–9 N · m (0.6–0.9 kg · m)

CAUTION

Handle brake fluid with care : the fluid reacts chemically with paint, plastics, rubber materials, etc.
