Rankings and the Reshaping of Higher Education Ellen Hazelkorn, 2015-03-23 University rankings have gained popularity around the world and are now a significant factor shaping reputation This second edition updates Ellen Hazelkorn's first comprehensive study of rankings from a global perspective drawing in new original research and extensive analysis It is essential reading for policymakers managers and scholars

Within and Beyond Citizenship Roberto G. Gonzales, Nando Sigona, 2017-07-06 Within and Beyond Citizenship brings together cutting edge research in sociology and social anthropology on the relationship between legal status rights and belonging in contemporary societies of immigration to offer a daring new perspective on these questions It offers new insights into the ways in which political membership is experienced spatially and bureaucratically constructed and actively negotiated and contested in the everyday lives of citizens and non citizens

Journal of International Students, 2017 Vol. 7(1) Krishna Bista, 2019-10-01 The Journal of International Students JIS an academic interdisciplinary and peer reviewed publication Print ISSN 2162 3104 Online ISSN 2166 3750 publishes narrative theoretical and empirically based research articles student and faculty reflections study abroad experiences and book reviews relevant to international students and their cross cultural experiences and understanding in international education More at www.ojed.org/jis

Nonformal Education and Civil Society in Japan Kaori H. Okano, 2015-09-16 Nonformal Education and Civil Society in Japan critically examines an aspect of education that has received little attention to date intentional teaching and learning activities that occur outside formal schooling In the last two decades nonformal education has rapidly increased in extent and significance This is because individual needs for education have become so diverse and rapidly changing that formal education alone is unable to satisfy them Increasingly diverse demands on education resulted from a combination of transnational migration heightened human rights awareness the aging population and competition in the globalised labour market Some in the private sector saw this situation as a business opportunity Others in the civil society volunteered to assist the vulnerable The rise in nonformal education has also been facilitated by national policy developments since the 1990s Drawing on case studies this book illuminates a diverse range of nonformal education activities and suggests that the nature of the relationship between nonformal education and mainstream schooling has changed Not only have the two sectors become more interdependent but the formal education sector increasingly acknowledges nonformal education's important and necessary roles These changes signal a significant departure from the past in the overall functioning of Japanese education The case studies include neighbourhood homework clubs for migrant children community based literacy classes after school care programs sport clubs alternative schools for long term absent students schools for foreigners training in intercultural competence at universities and corporations k minkan community halls and lifelong learning for the seniors This book will appeal to both scholars of Japanese Studies Asian Studies and those of comparative education and sociology anthropology of education

JIS Editors,2016-12-27 An interdisciplinary peer reviewed publication Journal of International Students is a professional journal that publishes narrative theoretical and empirically based research articles study abroad reflections and book reviews relevant to international students faculty scholars and their cross cultural experiences and understanding in higher education The Journal audience includes international and domestic students faculty administrators and educators engaged in research and practice in international students in colleges and universities More information on the web <http://jistudents.org> Return Migration Decisions Ruth Achenbach,2016-10-21 Ruth Achenbach develops a model of individual return migration decision making which examines both the process and the decisive factors in return migration decision making of Chinese highly skilled workers and students in Japan She proposes to answer a question yet insufficiently explained by migration research why do migrants deviate from their migration intentions and return sooner or later than planned or not at all Her study integrates factors from the spheres of career family and lifestyle and redefines stages in long term decision making processes thereby contributing to decision and migration theory She analyzes migrants shifting priorities over the course of migration including a perspective on life course and on the impact of the triple catastrophe of March 11 2011 The Evolution of English Language Learners in Japan Yoko Kobayashi,2018-01-19 This book seeks a better understanding of the sociocultural and ideological factors that influence English study in Japan and study abroad contexts such as university bound high schools female dominant English classes at college ESL schools in Canada and private or university affiliated ESL programs in Singapore and Malaysia The discussion is based not only on data garnered from Japanese EFL learners and Japanese overseas educators but also on official English language policies and commercial magazine discourses about English study for Japanese people The book addresses seemingly incompatible themes that are either entrenched in or beyond Japan's EFL context such as Japan's decades long poorly performing English education vs its equally long lived status as an economic power Japanese English learners preference for native English speakers norms in at home Japanese EFL contexts vs their friendship with other Asian students in western study abroad contexts Japanese female students dream of using English to further their careers vs Japanese working women's English study for self enrichment Japanese society's obsession with globalization through English study vs the Japanese economy sustained by monolingual Japanese businessmen Japanese business magazines frequent cover issues on global business English study vs Japanese working women's magazines less frequent and markedly feminized discourses about English study Solution Protocols to Festering Island Disputes Godfrey Baldacchino,2017-04-28 Since the coming into force of the United Nations Law of the Sea states have been targeting outlying islands to expand their exclusive economic zones simultaneously stirring up strident nationalism when such plans clash with those of neighbouring states No such actions have brought the world closer to the brink of war than the ongoing face off between China and Japan over the Diaoyu Senkaku islands an uninhabited archipelago in the East China Sea In this timely and original book Godfrey Baldacchino provides a detailed exploration of seven tried and tested solution protocols that have led to innovative win win solutions to island disputes over the last four centuries A closer look at the circumstances and processes that brought contending regional powers to an honourable even mutually advantageous settlement over islands provides a convincing and original argument as to why the conflict over the Diaoyu Senkaku islands need not conclude in a zero sum or winner takes all solution as is the likely outcome of both open conflict and international arbitration The book will be of interest to scholars and practitioners concerned with the festering Diaoyu Senkaku dispute as well as students scholars and policy specialists in geography geopolitics international relations conflict studies island studies Asian studies and history

Conflict, Exclusion and Dissent in the Linguistic Landscape Rani Rubdy, Selim Ben Said, 2016-04-29 This book explores the dynamics of the linguistic landscape as a site of conflict exclusion and dissent It focuses on socio historical economic political and ideological issues such as reflected in mass protest demonstrations to forge links between landscape identity social justice and power

Reforming Learning and Teaching in Asia-Pacific Universities Chi-hung Clarence Ng, Robert Fox, Michiko Nakano, 2016-05-06 This book focuses on learning and teaching as the core business of higher education and explores reformative efforts in response to the influences of globalised processes in three advanced economies in the Asia Pacific region Japan Hong Kong and Australia This is a significant book as it adds to limited discussions on the globalisation of learning debates and scholarly reflections on the links between globalised processes and changing educational practices critical to understanding the current challenges and options available for charting future development for universities in the Asia Pacific region and beyond It rejects an essentialising perspective that considers changes as inevitable and uniform Instead it considers negotiations arguments and even resistance as competing forces and integral components of the process of reforming pedagogical practices in Asia Pacific universities This book discusses globalised processes as a new context for reforming learning and teaching and its focused discussions cover topics including meeting the needs of new student groups new technological practices for change use of English as an international language and challenges in assessment and quality assurance
