Gender and the Judiciary in Africa Gretchen Bauer, Josephine Dawuni, 2015-10-30 Between 2000 and 2015 women ascended to the top of judiciaries across Africa most notably as chief justices of supreme courts in common law countries like Ghana Nigeria Sierra Leone Gambia Malawi Lesotho and Zambia but also as presidents of constitutional courts in civil law countries such as Benin Burundi Gabon Niger and Senegal Most of these appointments was a first in terms of the gender of the chief justice At the same time women are being appointed in record numbers as magistrates judges and justices across the continent While women's increasing numbers and roles in African executives and legislatures have been addressed in a burgeoning scholarly literature very little work has focused on women in judiciaries This book addresses the important issue of the increasing numbers and varied roles of women judges and justices as judiciaries evolve across the continent Scholars of law gender politics and African politics provide overviews of recent developments in gender and the judiciary in nine African countries that represent north east southern and west Africa as well as a range of colonial experiences postcolonial trajectories and legal systems including mixes of common civil customary or sharia law In the process each chapter seeks to address the following questions What has been the historical experience of the judicial system in a given country from before colonialism until the present What is the current court structure and where are the women judges justices magistrates and other women located What are the selection or appointment processes for joining the bench and in what ways may these help or hinder women to gain access to the courts as judges and justices Once they become judges do women on the bench promote the rights of women through their judicial powers What are the challenges and obstacles facing women judges and justices in Africa Timely and relevant in this era in which governmental accountability and transparency are essential to the consolidation of democracy in Africa and when women are accessing significant leadership positions across the continent this book considers the substantive and symbolic representation of women's interests by women judges and the wider implications of their presence for changing institutional norms and advancing the rule of law and human rights

China's Peasant Agriculture and Rural Society Jan Douwe van der Ploeg, Jingzhong Ye, 2016-05-20 China's agriculture and rural society has undergone rapid changes in recent years Many poorer farmers and younger people have moved to cities and yet China has an immense challenge to feed a growing and more affluent population This book provides a bottom up view of China s agriculture showing how the many millions of Chinese peasants make a living It presents a vivid description of the mechanisms used by rural households to defend and sustain their livelihoods increase their agricultural production and improve the quality of their lives The authors examine the newly emerging trajectories of entrepreneurial and capitalist farming and assess whether such alternatives will be able to meet the enormous social economic and environmental challenges that China faces The book also explores the paradigm that has underpinned the organisation and development of China s agriculture from ancient times to the present day This shows the importance of balancing in the Chinese model as compared to the one sided imposition of continual modernization in the western model It is argued that such balancing is at the core of the current Sannong policy referring to the three ruralities of food sovereignty wellbeing for peasant households and an attractive countryside Mercury Rising Jeff Shesol,2021-06-01

A riveting history of the epic orbital flight that put America back into the space race If the United States couldn t catch up to the Soviets in space how could it compete with them on Earth That was the question facing John F Kennedy at the height of the Cold War a perilous time when the Soviet Union built the wall in Berlin tested nuclear bombs more destructive than any in history and beat the United States to every major milestone in space The race to the heavens seemed a race for survival and America was losing On February 20 1962 when John Glenn blasted into orbit aboard Friendship 7 his mission was not only to circle the planet it was to calm the fears of the free world and renew America s sense of self belief Mercury Rising recreates the tension and excitement of a flight that shifted the momentum of the space race and put the United States on the path to the moon Drawing on new archival sources personal interviews and previously unpublished notes by Glenn himself Mercury Rising reveals how the astronaut s heroics lifted the nation s hopes in what Kennedy called the hour of maximum danger RDA Around the World Marie-France Plassard,Gordon Dunsire,2017-10-02 This book provides a snapshot of the implementation in various countries around the world of the international cataloging standard RDA resource description and access All stages of implementing a new standard are covered from initial assessment and impact analysis through translation staff training and data migration to implementation and user orientation Contributions include the results of detailed research into awareness of the standard in professional groups differences between catalog metadata produced using RDA and current local standards and the effect of RDA on the presentation of catalog displays to the end user The contributions cover aspects of RDA implementation in Canada China German speaking countries Iran Israel Mexico the Philippines Singapore and Turkey and French German and Spanish translation activity The information contained will be relevant for many years to come for those who are intending to implement RDA review the quality of legacy data measure the impact of the globalization of cataloguing data or prepare for education and orientation in international bibliographic standards This book was published as a special double issue of Cataloging and Classification Quarterly Building the
