Examined Thomas Kellaghan, Vincent Greaney, 2019-11-19 High stakes public examinations exert a dominant influence in most education systems They affect both teacher and student behavior especially at the middle and upper levels of secondary education The content of past examinations tends to dictate what is taught and how it is taught and more important what is learned and how it is learned By changing aspects of these examinations especially their content and format education systems can have a strong positive impact on teacher behavior and student learning help raise student achievement levels and better prepare students for tertiary level education and for employment Examination agencies many of which have followed the same procedures over decades can learn from the successes and failures of other systems This book addresses current issues related to the development administration scoring and usage of these high stakes public examinations identifying key issues and problems related to examinations in many emerging market economies as well as in advanced economies The book s primary audience consists of public examination officials on national regional and state examination boards but the book should also be of interest to senior education policy makers concerned with certification and learning achievement standards to academics and researchers interested in educational assessment to governmental and education agencies responsible for student selection and to professionals at development organizations This extremely well written and comprehensive book offers a timely review of the diversity of public examination practices worldwide of the tensions between examinations and learning and of the technical expertise involved in the creation of valid reliable and fair assessments It reminds us that as the diploma disease takes hold with an ever greater intensity at every stage of education worldwide and the commercial business of testing flourishes those concerned with educational quality and meaningful learning must be on guard to prevent the assessment tail wagging the educational dog Angela W Little Professor Emerita Institute of Education University College London This book is very well structured and written and draws on the authors remarkable global

Wolhuter, 2020-12-31

The argumentative point of departure of this scholarly book is the common conviction of specialists in the field of education in South Africa that the national education system is not at a satisfactory level in both the academic and the public discourse. Such allegations are made and frequently stronger adjectives than non satisfactory are used. Results of international test series in which South Africa has participated such as the 2015 TIMSS tests confirm the negative verdicts found in the public and scholarly discourse. This book aims to argue that although the lack of performance could be attributed to a multiplicity of factors one factor that can make a difference in the achievement levels obtained by learners in schools is leadership. The book demonstrates that a particular problem of both the scholarly and the public discourse on education in South Africa is an overtone of defeatism or resignation blaming all ills in the education system and educational institutions on historical legacies and or contextual factors such as socio economic deprivation in the catchment areas of schools or poor resources and infrastructure. This collected work was inspired by a recently published spate of articles on top performing schools including top performing schools in rural communities in which it was demonstrated that good leadership can overcome such contextual and other challenges. The book unpacks the issue of leadership in South African schools from a variety of perspectives thus contributing to the development of the scholarly discourse on Educational Leadership in South Africa. The target audience of the book is scholars of Educational Leadership. The research reported in the chapters draw on a wide range of methodologies including empirical survey research questionnaires and interviews critical literature surveys and the comparative method South African national bibliography, 1999 Classified list with author and title index

Parliament. Rajya Sabha,2017-07 Narrative Psychology and Vygotsky in Dialogue Jill Bradbury,2019-09-06

This book draws together two domains of psychological theory Vygotsky's cultural historical theory of cognition and narrative theories of identity to offer a way of rethinking the human subject as embodied relational and temporal A dialogue between these two ostensibly disparate and contested theoretical trajectories provides a new vantage point from which to explore questions of personal and political change In a world of deepening inequalities and increasing economic precarity the demand for free decolonised quality education as articulated by the South African Student Movement and in many other contexts around the world is disrupting established institutional practices and reinvigorating possibilities for change This context provokes new lines of hopeful thought and critical reflection on discontinuities across historical time theories of social and psychological developmental processes and the practices of intergenerational life particularly in the domain of education for the making of emancipatory futures This is essential reading for academics and students interested in Vygotskian and narrative theory and critical psychology as well as those interested in the politics and praxis of higher education Constitutional Triumphs, Constitutional Disappointments Rosalind Dixon,Theunis Roux,2018-04-19 Evaluates the successes and failures of the 1996 South African Constitution following the twentieth anniversary of its enactment marketing academics and professionals begin to realize how it can boost business performance in measurable ways For example it promotes customer patronage without expensive advertising and raises profitability by enabling companies to leverage their brand image when buying from particular sources Yet there are few empirical studies available to clarify its basic tenets and fewer still that help us understand corporate branding in different parts of the world Existing books focus mainly on conceptual ideas and real life examples Corporate Branding Areas arenas and approaches is a unique take on corporate branding that provides a global overview through rigorous research of different geographical areas across industries An international range of leading scholars contribute their coverage across three clear themes Area geographical areas across the globe including the UK USA Europe and Asia Arena a variety of commercial and not for profit sectors both B2B and B2C Approach methodological approaches to brand research design including qualitative quantitative case studies interpretivistic and social narrative These three themes enable the reader to consider corporate branding from more perspectives and in more ways than any other corporate branding book The result is an understanding of this strategically important growing subject that cannot be found anywhere else This book is an essential read for any branding student or interested professional Outlook on Agriculture ,2015 Matric Solutions Charles Melzer,1988 1990 HG. ,1990
