Mountaineering Tourism Ghazali Musa, James Higham, Anna Thompson- Carr, 2015-06-05 In May 1993 the British Mountaineering Council met to discuss the future of high altitude tourism Of concern to attendees were reports of queues on Everest and reference was made to mountaineer Peter Boardman calling Everest an amphitheater of the ego Issues raised included environmental and social responsibility and regulations to minimize impacts In the years that have followed there has been a surge of interest in climbing Everest with one day in 2012 seeing 234 climbers reach the summit Participation in mountaineering tourism has surely escalated beyond the imagination of those who attended the meeting 20 years ago This book provides a critical and comprehensive analysis of all pertinent aspects and issues related to the development and the management of the growth area of mountaineering tourism By doing so it explores the meaning of adventure and special reference to mountain based adventure the delivering of adventure experience and adventure learning and education It further introduces examples of settings alpine environments where a general management framework could be applied as a baseline approach in mountaineering tourism development Along with this general management framework the book draws evidence from case studies derived from various mountaineering tourism development contexts worldwide to highlight the diversity and uniqueness of management approaches policies and practices Written by leading academics from a range of disciplinary backgrounds this insightful book will provide students researchers and academics with a better understanding of the unique aspects of tourism management and development of this growing form of adventure tourism across the world

The Story of White Hall Centre Pete McDonald, 2018-05-01

Mount Everest Deaths Zara Sagan, 2025-01-05 Mount Everest Deaths delves into the sobering reality of mountaineering fatalities on Earth's highest peak where one in thirty eight climbers never returns from their summit attempt This comprehensive exploration weaves together historical data scientific research and ethical considerations to present a thorough examination of the human cost associated with climbing Everest Through careful analysis of climbing databases autopsy reports and survivor accounts the book reveals how modern accessibility has paradoxically increased fatalities despite technological advances The narrative unfolds across four distinct sections beginning with a historical chronicle of climbing deaths since 1922 and progressing through the complex environmental and physiological challenges faced by mountaineers Readers gain insight into how altitude sickness severe weather conditions and equipment failures contribute to the mountain's deadly statistics The book also tackles controversial aspects of high altitude climbing including the ethical implications of managing deceased climbers and the impact of commercial expeditions on safety Drawing from multiple disciplines including environmental science human physiology and meteorology the book maintains an objective documentary style approach while remaining accessible to both mountaineering enthusiasts and general readers interested in extreme environments It serves as both a cautionary resource and an analytical tool offering practical risk assessment guidelines while examining the delicate balance between increasing accessibility and maintaining safety standards on the world's most formidable peak

Tupande Kileleni Patrick Steenberge, 2018-02-16 Tupande Kileleni Lets Climb to the Summit Together is the compelling story of Africa's first American football game the Global Kilimanjaro Bowl and how dedicated teams of individuals from Iowa USA Mexico and Tanzania were brought together to make the dream of one passionate coach a reality This nonfiction work from Global Football president and founder Patrick Steenberge is an inspiring tale of the multiyear preparation and the ultimately successful journey of two college football teams from uniquely different cultures that traveled halfway around the world to impact the lives of Tanzanians through service friendship and sport The student athletes and university staff experienced a land of stark contrasts and stunning beauty Ultimately they went together to the summit of the worlds tallest freestanding mountain and they celebrated as one triumphant team As you will come to fully appreciate this story is about a dream rooted in faith a group of men and women who embodied the dream and their commitment to serve and succeed
