

Next-Level HPMS For All-Hazard Trace Detection and Identification

ALL-HAZARD THREAT DETECTION

MX908™ leverages high-pressure trace spectrometry™ (HPMS) to deliver dramatically enhanced sensitivity and detection through a plug-in cartridge. The second-generation tool provides a robust system with unmatched flexibility and trace detection power that also incorporates a chemical analyzer and primary hazard warnings. MX908 lightens the overall technology burden by integrating all key select detection technologies from the response team.

LIGHTENING THE LOAD

With the enhanced performance of high-pressure trace spectrometry (HPMS), users can lighten the technology load of tools required otherwise. With a single tool, users combine the key essential trace spectrometry (HS) and organic gas detection technologies. MX908 can detect trace quantities (low) – instead of having a panel of tools, the user can rely on the plug-in filter for select technologies.
