Autism: The Movement (Sensing) Perspective a Decade Later Elizabeth B. Torres,Jonathan T. Delafield-Butt,Vikram K. Jaswal,Susan Crawford,Ashok Srinivasan,Brittany Travers,2025-08-19 A decade ago in 2013 the Research Topic Autism the Movement Perspective proposed the radical idea that using movement and its sensations could help us better understand the many complex layers of autism spectrum disorders Inspired by earlier work from other fields the work positioned front and center approaches from neuromotor control infusing the research with new computational ideas to study autism across the human lifespan Through the lens of motor variability as a form of kinesthetic reafference causal inference and predictive codes the Research Topic brought together a group of researchers parents practitioners and self advocates to rethink autism as sensory motor differences contributing to the emergence of powerful coping mechanisms that advanced our understanding of how the human brain develops and functions Today with new improvements in biosensing technologies and neuroscience and the embodied and affective psychology on which development is based we revisit this Research Topic approaching autism anew through a modernized lens of precision aimed at enabling socio motor agency

Erotic Attunement Cristina L. H. Traina,2011-12-01 Heightened awareness of the problem of sexual abuse has led to deep anxiety over adults touching children in nearly any context Though our society has moved toward increasingly strict enforcement of this taboo studies have shown that young children need regular human contact and the benefits of breastfeeding have been widely extolled Exploring the complicated history of love desire gender sexuality parenthood and inequality Erotic Attunement probes the disquieting issue of how we can draw a clear line between natural affection toward children and perverse exploitation of them Cristina L H Traina demonstrates that we cannot determine what is wrong about sexual abuse without first understanding what is good about appropriate sensual affection Pondering topics such as the importance of touch in nurturing children the psychology of abuse and victimhood and recent ideologies of motherhood she argues that we must expand our philosophical and theological language of physical love and make a distinction between sexual love and erotic love Taking on theological and ethical arguments over the question of sexuality between unequals she arrives at the provocative conclusion that it can be destructive to completely bar eroticism from these relationships
