Meeting the Challenges to Measurement in an Era of Accountability Henry Braun, 2016-01-29 Under pressure and support from the federal government states have increasingly turned to indicators based on student test scores to evaluate teachers and schools as well as students themselves The focus thus far has been on test scores in those subject areas where there is a sequence of consecutive tests such as in mathematics or English language arts with a focus on grades 4 8 Teachers in these subject areas however constitute less than thirty percent of the teacher workforce in a district Comparatively little has been written about the measurement of achievement in the other grades and subjects This volume seeks to remedy this imbalance

by focusing on the assessment of student achievement in a broad range of grade levels and subject areas with particular attention to their use in the evaluation of teachers and schools in all It addresses traditional end of course tests as well as alternative measures such as portfolios exhibitions and student learning objectives In each case issues related to design and development psychometric considerations and validity challenges are covered from both a generic and a content specific perspective The NCME Applications of Educational Measurement and Assessment series includes edited volumes designed to inform research based applications of educational measurement and assessment Edited by leading experts these books are comprehensive and practical resources on the latest developments in the field The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

The Natural World as a Resource for Learning and Development: From Schoolyards to Wilderness Ming Kuo,Cathy Jordan,2019-11-04 Team Teaching and Team Learning in the Language Classroom Akira Tajino,Tim Stewart,David Dalsky,2015-12-14 This book reignites discussion on the importance of collaboration and innovation in language education The pivotal difference highlighted in this volume is the concept of team learning through collaborative relationships such as team teaching It explores ways in which team learning happens in ELT environments and what emerges from these explorations is a more robust concept of team learning in language education Coupled with this deeper understanding the value of participant research is emphasised by defining the notion of team to include all participants in the educational experience Authors in this volume position practice ahead of theory as they struggle to make sense of the complex phenomena of language teaching and learning The focus of this book is on the nexus between ELT theory and practice as viewed through the lens of collaboration The volume aims to add to the current knowledge base in order to bridge the theory practice gap regarding collaboration for innovation in language classrooms China's New Retail Economy Shuguang Wang,2014-01-10 Retail is the essential link between production and consumption The dynamics of a nation s economy cannot be fully understood without a good understanding of its retail sector This book is written to achieve three broad objectives First it provides a comprehensive assessment of the changes in consumption patterns in China the current size of the Chinese consumer market and the regional variations Second it presents an interpretation of the changes in the country's regulatory system and the corresponding policy initiatives including the new state spatial strategies devised after its admission to the WTO Third it delivers a systematic analysis of the transformation of China's retail sector This includes the entry and expansion of foreign retailers the development of indigenous retail chains as a national strategy to modernize China's retail industry and the changing retailer supplier relations This book is a useful reference not only for university students and faculty researchers but also for international retailers and commercial real estate developers who contemplate business and investment opportunities in China

Learning and Innovation in Natural Resource Based Industries

Allan Dahl Andersen, Anabel Marín, 2020-06-04 This book develops and articulates a new perspective on the relationship between natural resources and development by foregrounding issues of innovation knowledge and industrial dynamics Despite growing academic attention to the relationship between economic development and natural resources in social sciences the issue has received rather limited attention in the field of Innovation Studies This is problematic given the centrality of innovation and technological change for growth and development Against that background this book makes three contributions Firstly it summarizes and synthesizes existing insights about learning and innovation in Natural Resource Based Industries Secondly it develops new insights based on original research work Thirdly it distills and explains the remaining research challenges in the field Containing important insights for researchers businesses and policymakers this book will be useful to all those with an interest in navigating a natural resource based development pathway This book was originally published as a special issue of Innovation and Development

Gunnar Myrdal Claes Berg, 2025-03-04 This book offers a comprehensive exploration of Gunnar Myrdal's life as well as his significant scientific political and international contributions Recognized as one of the foremost Stockholm economists Myrdal alongside Keynes played a pivotal role in revolutionizing economic theory during the 1930s Together with his wife Alva Myrdal he was instrumental in shaping the Swedish welfare state Gunnar Myrdal was far ahead of his time in demonstrating that both a strong state and a vibrant civil society are essential for developing an inclusive welfare state Myrdal's influence extended well beyond Sweden His groundbreaking analysis of racial oppression in the United States particularly in his seminal work An American Dilemma is widely regarded as a landmark in the struggle for equal rights During the Cold War he played a key role in the United Nations efforts to rebuild Europe and sought to bridge the divide between East and West His penetrating examination of the causes of underdevelopment in Asian Drama made a significant contribution to the understanding of prejudice and colonial oppression This book traces Gunnar Myrdal's journey from his childhood to the Nobel Memorial Prize detailing his intense collaboration with Alva and her eventual professional independence It compellingly illustrates how he with clear eyed pragmatism and a steadfast commitment to his values addressed both Swedish and global social challenges Remarkably many of the issues Myrdal grappled with remain deeply relevant today including the cracks in Sweden's welfare society racism in the United States the rise of authoritarian regimes and the re emergence of a new Cold War This book will particularly resonate with social scientists and general readers interested in the role of institutions in development the motivations behind the inclusive welfare state and the crucial importance of letting value premises guide research policy solutions and actions on social issues including identity race and power
