Questions:

1. In Chapter 12 Huck and Jim do some serious thinking about the morality of "borrowing." What conclusion do they come to? Do you find any flaws in their reasoning? What point do you think Twain was trying to make in this passage?

2. On board the sinking Walter Scott, Twain presents the reader with another moral dilemma in progress: Huck hears Jake and Bill discussing whether to murder Jim Turner, who is himself a murderer. What decision does Jake Packard make? Is it really a "moral" decision, as he claims it is? What point do you think Twain is trying to make in this passage?

3. In dealing with the thieves on board the Walter Scott, how does Huck demonstrate to the reader that he has a good heart, that he is compassionate? What moral reasoning does he use in choosing to help the thieves?

4. When Huck talks to the watchman in Chapter 13, what story about himself does he make up? (This is the second persona that Huck adopts in the novel.)

5. What is the apparent fate of the thieves?
