Life Science Memo Paper 1 September 2013:

EU Global Strategy and Human Security Mary Kaldor, Iavor Rangelov, Sabine Selchow, 2018-04-17 This volume examines the EU's Global Strategy in relation to human security approaches to conflict. Contemporary conflicts are best understood as a social condition in which armed groups mobilise sectarian and fundamentalist sentiments and construct a predatory economy through which they enrich themselves at the expense of ordinary citizens. This volume provides a timely contribution to debates over the role of the EU on the global stage and its contribution to peace and security at a time when these discussions are reinvigorated by the adoption of the EU Global Strategy. It discusses the significance of the Strategic Review and the Global Strategy for the re-articulation of EU conflict prevention, crisis management, peacebuilding and development policies in the next few years. It also addresses the key issues facing EU security in the 21st century, including the conflicts in Ukraine, Libya and Syria, border security, cyber security and the role of the private security sector. The book concludes by proposing that the EU adopts a second generation human security approach to conflicts as an alternative to geopolitics or the War on Terror, taking forward the principles of human security and adapting them to 21st century realities. This book will be of interest to students of human security, European foreign and security policy, peace and conflict studies, global governance and IR in general.

Risk Regulation in the Internal Market Maria Weimer, 2019-03-13 This book offers a topical inquiry into the legal and political limits of EU regulation in the field of risk and new technologies surrounded by techno-scientific complexity, uncertainty and societal contestation. It uses agricultural biotechnology as a paradigmatic example to illustrate the complex intertwinement between environmental, public health, economic and social concerns in risk regulation. Weimer analyses the drawbacks of the EU approach to agricultural biotechnology, showing that its reductionism, i.e. the narrow understanding of GMO risks as well as the exclusion of broader societal concerns related to environmental and social sustainability, has undermined both the legitimacy and effectiveness of EU regulation in this area. Resistance to this approach, however, has also triggered legal innovations prompting us to re-think EU internal market law, including the way in which it manages the tensions between unity and diversity and between social and economic concerns. This text offers fresh and original insights into how far the EU can go in harmonizing regulatory approaches to risk At the same time it proposes new ways of re thinking EU risk regulation to make it more responsive to different perspectives on risk and technology A unique feature of this book is that it contributes to various strains of scholarship including risk regulation internal market law public administration and studies of governance and regulation as well as connecting these themes to broader debates about the legitimacy of European integration and new ways of differentiated integration As a result it assists in re imagining the EU internal market and its regulation as a site of diversity

POVERTY, LIVELIHOOD AND ENVIRONMENTAL ISSUES Ashok Kundu, Amit Kumar Bhandari, Aparajita

Dhara, 2017-08-01. The linkage between poverty, livelihood and the environment is always multifaceted and often complex. The degradation of the environment has been plunging millions of people into poverty. The last century witnessed rapid progress in the application of science and technology which resulted in improvement in livelihood, reduction in poverty, enhanced life expectancy and huge growth in consumption which in turn created pressure on the environment. Thus the planet's capacity to sustain is eroding with degrading agricultural land, shrinking forests, diminishing supply of clean water and other related issues. Apart from food and water, clean and affordable access to energy is one key issue to a decent livelihood. The tradeoffs that policymakers are facing nowadays are rapid reduction in poverty and improving livelihood without harming the environment. These draw our focus to address environmental issues that matter to the livelihood of the poor which are critical for poverty reduction. Strengthening the link between poverty, livelihood and the environment can promote sustainable development outcomes. The book is a collection of articles on comprehensive research, case studies, empirical and theoretical papers on these issues. The chapters of the book attempted to analyze the links and identify approaches that can promote positive outcomes. The contributors here tried to highlight a number of key challenges that need to be addressed in the process of policy formulation and government investment programmes. It may serve as an important resource for academics, researchers, professionals, students and policy makers.

The Real Thing Briony Penn, 2015-10-15. The Real Thing is the first official biography of Ian McTaggart Cowan 1910-2010, the father of Canadian ecology. Authorized by his family and with the research support and participation of the University of Victoria Libraries, Briony Penn provides an unprecedented and accessible window into the story of this remarkable naturalist. From his formative years roaming the mountains around Vancouver looking for venison to his last years finishing the voluminous and authoritative Birds of British Columbia, Cowan's life provides a unique perspective on a century of environmental change with a critical message for the future. As the head and founder of the first university-based wildlife department in Canada, Ian McTaggart Cowan revolutionized the way North Americans understood the natural world and students flocked into his classrooms to hear his brilliant, entertaining lectures regarding the new science of ecology. His television programs in the 1950s and 60s, Fur and Feathers, The Web of Life and The Living Sea, made him a household name around the world. He was also responsible for hiring a young David Suzuki who followed in his nature show host footsteps. Illustrated throughout with colour and black and white photos from all aspects of Cowan's life, The Real Thing takes the reader on an adventurous and inspirational journey through the heart of North American ecology, wilderness, landscape and wonder.

A Cognitive and Anthropological Response to the Death of Painting Bruce

Rimell,2016-04-07 The alleged death of painting has shaped the recent course of art but the model of the human mind upon which it rests is no longer considered accurate Cognitive science has shown that the mind is not a blank slate but content rich and as such humans bear an array of innate expectations of reality and non reality which apply to painting as well as other human behaviours such as religion or music This creative thesis takes in a series of case studies tracing the prehistory of painting in light of these cognitive propensities from the beginnings of human culture to Bushman rock art and the experiences of painters today to uncover a perennial function for painting which cannot die the ubiquitous sensation of an otherworld beyond the canvas or rock face This approach to painting demands its rehabilitation as a humanising self expression in a world increasingly estranged from art abandoning artistic ideology in favour of an image based communion with human nature

The Solar Activity Cycle André Balogh,Hugh Hudson,Kristóf Petrovay,Rudolf Steiger,2015-04-16 A collection of papers edited by four experts in the field this book sets out to describe the way solar activity is manifested in observations of the solar interior the photosphere the chromosphere the corona and the heliosphere The 11 year solar activity cycle more generally known as the sunspot cycle is a fundamental property of the Sun This phenomenon is the generation and evolution of magnetic fields in the Sun s convection zone the photosphere It is only by the careful enumeration and description of the phenomena and their variations that one can clarify their interdependences The sunspot cycle has been tracked back about four centuries and it has been recognized that to make this data set a really useful tool in understanding how the activity cycle works and how it can be predicted a very careful and detailed effort is needed to generate sunspot numbers This book deals with this topic together with several others that present related phenomena that all indicate the physical processes that take place in the Sun and its exterior environment The reviews in the book also present the latest theoretical and modelling studies that attempt to explain the activity cycle It remains true as has been shown in the unexpected characteristics of the first two solar cycles in the 21st century that predictability remains a serious challenge Nevertheless the highly expert and detailed reviews in this book using the very best solar observations from both ground and space based telescopes provide the best possible report on what is known and what is yet to be discovered Originally published in Space Science Reviews Vol 186 Issues 1 4 2014
