and its instrumentality in facilitating various processes of human development and experience In analyzing the basic theological structure of Mormonism and its unique canonical texts the objective is to determine the extent to which LDS theology is compatible with this three fold definition of emotion At this basic level of explanation the conclusion is that science and Mormon theology undoubtedly share a common perspective The textual investigation focuses on unique Mormon scriptures and on their descriptions of six common emotions hope fear joy sorrow love and hate For each of these emotional phenomena the extensive report of textual references consistently confirms an implied presence of the outlined three fold model of emotion Thus the evidence points to the presence of an underlying folk model of emotion in the text that broadly matches scientific definitions Additionally the theological examination is enlarged with a particular focus on the Mormon theology of atonement which is shown to play a significant role in LDS understandings of emotions A broad exploration of such areas as epistemology cosmology soteriology and the theological anthropology of Mormonism further contextualizes the analysis and roots it in the LDS theological worldview DBT Skills Training Manual , Understanding Power in

Feeling Beauty G. Gabrielle Starr, 2015-01-30 A theory of the neural bases of aesthetic experience across the arts which draws on the tools of both cognitive neuroscience and traditional humanist inquiry In Feeling Beauty G Gabrielle Starr argues that understanding the neural underpinnings of aesthetic experience can reshape our conceptions of aesthetics and the arts Drawing on the tools of both cognitive neuroscience and traditional humanist inquiry Starr shows that neuroaesthetics offers a new model for understanding the dynamic and changing features of aesthetic life the relationships among the arts and how individual differences in aesthetic judgment shape the varieties of aesthetic experience Starr a scholar of the humanities and a researcher in the neuroscience of aesthetics proposes that aesthetic experience relies on a distributed neural architecture a set of brain areas involved in emotion perception imagery memory and language More important it emerges from networked interactions intricately connected and coordinated brain systems that together form a flexible architecture enabling us to develop new arts and to see the world around us differently Focusing on the sister arts of poetry painting and music Starr builds and tests a neural model of aesthetic experience valid across all the arts Asking why works that address different senses using different means seem to produce the same set of feelings she examines particular works of art in a range of media including a poem by Keats a painting by van Gogh a sculpture by Bernini and Beethoven's Diabelli Variations Starr's innovative interdisciplinary analysis is true to the complexities of both the physical instantiation of aesthetics and the realities of artistic representation

The Construction of the Self, Second Edition Susan Harter, 2015-05-26 An important work from a leading scholar this book explores self development from early childhood to adulthood Susan Harter traces the normative stages that define the emergence of many self processes including self esteem She also addresses individual differences and societal influences on self development Presenting pioneering empirical research Harter shows that increasingly mature features of the self have both benefits and liabilities for psychological adjustment The book highlights the causes and consequences of different types of self representations including those that are unrealistically negative or positive New to This Edition Reflects more than a decade of conceptual empirical and methodological advances Provides a broader sociocultural framework for understanding self development Chapters on emerging adulthood self esteem and physical appearance self processes in the classroom motivation cross cultural issues and the quest for authenticity Expanded chapters on childhood adolescence and the self conscious emotions Increased attention to the liabilities of our contemporary preoccupation with the self

Emotions, Community, and Citizenship Rebecca Kingston, Kiran Banerjee, James McKee, Yi-Chun Chien, Constantine C. Vassiliou, 2017-01-01 Emotions Community and Citizenship is a pioneering work that brings together scholars from an array of disciplines in order to challenge and unite the disciplinary divides in the study of emotions

Handbook of Biblical Social Values, Third Edition John J. Pilch, Bruce Malina, 2016-11-04 Values are culturally specific This handbook explains select biblical social values in their Mediterranean cultural contexts Some examples of values are altruism freedom family centeredness obedience parenting and power Though the English words for the values described here would be familiar to readers e.g. altruism the meanings of such words differ between cultures In the Mediterranean world for instance altruism is a duty incumbent upon anyone who has surplus It is interpersonal and group specific In the West especially in the United States altruism is impersonal and universally oriented generosity that operates in a highly organized context This handbook not only presents the Mediterranean meanings of these value words but also contrasts those meanings with Western ones Emotion in Language Ulrike M. Lüdtke,2015-12-16 The miracle of children s language development and the joy of expressive language on the one hand and the vulnerability of language and the sorrow and grief caused by its distortion or even loss in people with aphasia or dementia on the other hand show us the inseparability of emotion and language in its extremes Although the emotional turn promised a paradigmatic shift from a rationalistic towards an emotion integrating conceptualization of language hardly any interdisciplinary research has focused on the interplay between emotion and language The present book covers the wide range of work on Emotion in Language with contributions from numerous disciplines in the three areas of Theory Research and Application With contributions both from well known pioneers in the area of this topic as well as from young scientists the book offers a broad range of perspectives from linguistics and language development to neurology psychology and developmental neuropsychology and to the fields of philosophy and phenomenology Handbook of Motivation at School Kathryn R.
