

How Savannah Happened

by Peggy Cliden

In the early morning of July 30, 1732, members of London's elite gentlemen readied themselves for an important meeting at the Georgia office in the Old Palace Yard. In preparation for the event, a few of the men doosed long, hand knitted stockings and drew them up high over the knee before rolling and gartering them into place. The garters, made of silk or silver braid, would be fastened with a buckle. They would ensure the powdering and perfuming of their wigs – surviving the ordeal only by coming up with a powdering coat and breathing through a paper cone. The wigs were most likely the full-bottomed, curly style, the type with a mass of curls that framed the face and hung below the shoulders.

Twelve high-mugged Trustees attended this first meeting convened near the Old Palace Yard. Preparations were discussed for establishing a settlement in a land that was originally a part of the Province of Carolina. It was a wild area, filled with Spaniards and hostile Indians, and the folks of South Carolina never managed to gain full control of the land. General Oglethorpe intended to settle the land with debtors from the squalid and cruel London prisons. While his intentions were good, they weren't fulfilled as he hoped. The plan for settling the new colony went through several revisions. It was decided that the land would be filled with "deserving poor."

General Oglethorpe intended to settle the land with debtors from the squalid and cruel London prisons. While his intentions were good, they weren't fulfilled as he hoped. The plan for settling the new colony went through several revisions. It was decided that the land would be filled with "deserving poor."

This presentation, in part, takes a look at some of the deserving poor who set off four months after that first gentlemen's meeting, to head for the swampy land that would be called Savannah. Oglethorpe and the first settlers left from Gravesend aboard the Ship Anne.
