If there is no author, start the citation with the title of the article. If the page is likely to change over time, add a retrieval date.

If you are citing an online version of a print publication (e.g. a newspaper, magazine, or dictionary), use the same format as you would for print, with a URL added at the end. Formats differ for online videos (e.g. TED Talks), images, and dissertations.

Citing an entire website

When you refer to a website in your text without quoting or paraphrasing from a specific part of it, you don't need a formal citation. Instead, you can just include the URL in parentheses after the name of the site:

One of the most popular social media sites, Instagram (<http://instagram.com>), allows users to share images and videos.

For this kind of citation, you don't need to include the website on the reference page. However, if you're citing a specific page or article from a website, you will need a formal in-text citation and reference list entry.
