 Smart electrical generation and distribution infrastructure will play a crucial role in meeting these challenges We would need to develop capabilities to handle large volumes of data generated by the power system components like PMUs DFRs and other data acquisition devices as well as by the capacity to process these data at high resolution via multi scale and multi period simulations cascading and security analysis interaction between hybrid systems electric transport gas oil coal etc and so on to get meaningful information in real time to ensure a secure reliable and stable power system grid Advanced research on development and implementation of market ready leading edge high speed enabling technologies and algorithms for solving real time dynamic resource critical problems will be required for dynamic security analysis targeted towards successful implementation of Smart Grid initiatives This books aims to bring together some of the latest research developments as well as thoughts on the future research directions of the high performance computing applications in electric power systems planning operations security markets and grid integration of alternate sources of energy etc

Sensor Technology for Smart Homes Juan Ye,Michael O'Grady,Oresti Banos,2021-04-21 This Special Issue presents the recent advances in sensor technologies for smart homes including fiber Bragg grating FBG sensors for detecting the presence and number of occupants the Internet of things for monitoring CO2 concentration and designing a novel eye tracking system for monitoring and controlling a smart home and infrared thermal sensors for fall detection Such new explorations are pushing the boundary of sensing technologies and thus will have more profound implications for the future smart home Advanced machine learning and data mining algorithms have been proposed to address sensor failure appliance identification and human activity recognition in a home environment These results will enable a promising sustainable deployment of sensing technologies A novel multi agent gamification system is proposed for managing tasks between household members and between families which demonstrate another dimension of future smart home application This Special Issue concludes with a review on sensors for human activity recognition This work paves the roadmap for deploying smart home systems in different socioeconomic contexts The whole Special Issue has significantly helped to shape our understanding of the strength implications and barriers of deploying long term sustainable sensor technologies for smart homes Computerworld ,2009 The American City & County ,2009

Detecting Peripheral-based Attacks on the Host Memory Patrick Stewin,2014-12-27 This work addresses stealthy peripheral based attacks on host computers and presents a new approach to detecting them Peripherals can be regarded as separate systems that have a dedicated processor and dedicated runtime memory to handle their tasks The book addresses the problem that peripherals generally communicate with the host via the host s main memory storing cryptographic keys passwords opened files and other sensitive data in the process an aspect attackers are quick to exploit Here stealthy malicious software based on isolated micro controllers is implemented to conduct an attack analysis the results of which provide the basis for developing a novel runtime detector The detector reveals stealthy peripheral based attacks on the host s main memory by exploiting certain hardware properties while a permanent and resource efficient measurement strategy ensures that the detector is also capable of detecting transient attacks which can otherwise succeed when the applied strategy only measures intermittently. Attackers exploit this strategy by attacking the system in between two measurements and erasing all traces of the attack before the system is measured again.
