The Golem Gustav Meyrink, 1928 "Der Golem" Von Gustav Meyrink Hugh Whitaker Winslow, 1970 Legend and Idea in Gustav Meyrink's Der Golem Beverly Jaeck Johnson, 1972 The Golem Gustav Meyrink, 2021-03-12

The Golem original German title Der Golem is a novel written by Gustav Meyrink between 1907 and 1914. 1 First published in serial form from December 1913 to August 1914 in the periodical Die Wei en Bl tter. The Golem was published in book form in 1915 by Kurt Wolff Leipzig. The Golem was Meyrink's first novel. It sold over 200 000 copies in 1915. 2 It became his most popular and successful literary work and is generally described as the most accessible of his full length novels. It was first translated into English in 1928. The novel centers on the life of Athanasius Pernath, a jeweler and art restorer who lives in the ghetto of Prague. But his story is experienced by an anonymous narrator who during a visionary dream assumes Pernath's identity thirty years before. This dream was perhaps induced because he inadvertently swapped his hat with the real old Pernath's. While the novel is generally focused on Pernath's own musings and adventures, it also chronicles the lives, the characters, and the interactions of his friends and neighbors. The Golem, though rarely seen, is central to the novel as a representative of the ghetto's own spirit and consciousness brought to life by the suffering and misery that its inhabitants have endured over the centuries. The story itself has a disjointed and often elliptical feel as it was originally published in serial form and is intended to convey the mystical associations and interests that the author himself was exploring at the time. The reality of the narrator's experiences is often called into question as some of them may simply be dreams or hallucinations, and others may be metaphysical or transcendent events that are taking place outside the real world. Similarly, it is revealed over the course of the book that Pernath apparently suffered from a mental breakdown on at least one occasion but has no memory of any such event; he is also unable to remember his childhood and most of his youth, a fact that may or may not be attributable to his previous breakdown. His mental stability is constantly called into question by his friends and neighbors, and the reader is left to wonder what, if anything, that has taken place in the narrative actually happened.

This book examines how a variety of German and Austrian films treat aspects of Jewish life at home and in the synagogue and Jewish interaction with fellow Jews in different cultural environments, conflicts and accommodations between Jews and non-Jews at various times ranging from the medieval to the contemporary. The author, one of the best-known scholars in film history theory and criticism, offers the reader a rich panorama of the many Jews involved in all spheres of the cinema and who, as the author reminds us repeatedly, together with their non-Jewish contemporaries created a great industry and new forms of art.

History of the Literary Cultures of East-Central Europe Marcel Cornis-Pope, John Neubauer, 2010-09-29

Types and stereotypes is the fourth and last volume of a path-breaking multinational literary history that incorporates innovative features relevant to the writing of literary history in general. Instead of offering a traditional chronological narrative of the period 1800-1989, the History of the Literary Cultures of East-Central Europe approaches the region's literatures from five complementary angles: focusing on literature's participation in and reaction to key political events; literary periods and genres; the literatures of cities and sub-regions; literary institutions and figures of representation. The main objective of the project is to challenge the self-enclosure of national literatures in traditional literary histories, to contextualize them in a regional perspective and to recover individual works, writers and minority literatures that national histories have marginalized or ignored. Types and stereotypes brings together articles that rethink the figures of National Poets, figurations of the Family, Women, Outlaws and Others, as well as figures of Trauma and Mediation. As in the previous three volumes, the historical and imaginary figures discussed here constantly change and readjust to new political and social conditions. An Epilogue complements the basic history, focusing on the contradictory transformations of East-Central European literary cultures after 1989. This volume will be of interest to the region's literary historians, to students and teachers of comparative literature, to cultural historians and to the general public interested in exploring the literatures of a rich and resourceful cultural region.
