Isizulu Paper November :

Learning Zulu Mark Sanders, 2019-06-04 Why are you learning Zulu When Mark Sanders began studying the language he was often asked this question In Learning Zulu Sanders places his own endeavors within a wider context to uncover how in the past 150 years of South African history Zulu became a battleground for issues of property possession and deprivation Sanders combines elements of analysis and memoir to explore a complex cultural history Perceiving that colonial learners of Zulu saw themselves as repairing harm done to Africans by Europeans Sanders reveals deeper motives at work in the development of Zulu language learning from the emergence of the pidgin Fanagalo among missionaries and traders in the nineteenth century to widespread efforts in the twentieth and twenty first centuries to teach a correct form of Zulu Sanders looks at the white appropriation of Zulu language music and dance in South African culture and at the association of Zulu with a martial masculinity In exploring how Zulu has come to represent what is most properly and powerfully African Sanders examines differences in English and Zulu language press coverage of an important trial as well as the role of linguistic purism in xenophobic violence in South Africa Through one person s efforts to learn the Zulu language Learning Zulu explores how a language s history and politics influence all individuals in a multilingual society

The People's Paper Peter Limb, 2012-09-01 This much awaited volume uncovers the long lost pages of the major African multilingual newspaper Abantu Batho Founded in 1912 by African National Congress ANC convenor Pixley Seme with assistance from the Swazi Queen it was published up until 1931 attracting the cream of African politicians journalists and poets Mqhayi Nontsisi Mggweth and Grendon In its pages burning issues of the day were articulated alongside cultural by ways The People s Paper comprising both essays and an anthology explores the complex movements and individuals that emerged in the almost twenty years of its publication The essays contribute rich new material to provide clearer insights into South African politics and intellectual life The anthology unveils a judicious selection of never before published columns from the paper spanning every year of its life and drawn from repositories on three continents Abantu Batho had a regional and international focus and by examining all these dynamics across boundaries and disciplines The People s Paper transcends established historiographical frontiers to fill a lacuna that scholars have long lamented

The Eye of the Storm Jonathan A. Draper, 2003-04-01 One hundred years ago Bishop Colenso was excommunicated because of his liberal critical views on the inspiration and authority of the Bible But while in South Africa he worked strenuously for social and political reform 2003 will mark the revocation of his excommunication in a ceremony in South Africa and this book commemorates that event It is divided into sections on African Culture Bible Theology and Social History and contains contribution from English Dutch and South African scholars It will appeal not only to the biblical scholar and Christian theologian but also to anyone interested in the 19th century conflict of theology and reason and the struggle against colonial exploitation

The Ambiguity of English as a Lingua Franca Stephanie Rudwick, 2021-08-29 Grounded in ethnography this monograph explores the ambiguity of English as a lingua franca by focusing on identity politics of language and race in contemporary South Africa The book adopts a multidisciplinary approach which highlights how ways of speaking English constructs identities in a multilingual context Focusing primarily on isiZulu and Afrikaans speakers it raises critical questions around power and ideology The study draws from literature on English as a lingua franca raciolinguistics and the cultural politics of English and dialogues between these fields It challenges long held concepts underpinning existing research from the global North by highlighting how they do not transfer and apply to identity politics of language in South Africa It sketches out how these struggles for belonging are reflected in marginalisation and empowerment and a vast range of local global and glocal identity trajectories Ultimately it offers a first lens through which global scholarship on English as a lingua franca can be decolonised in terms of disciplinary limitations geopolitical orientations and a focus on the politics of race that characterize the use of English as a lingua franca all over the world This book will be of interest to students and researchers in linguistic anthropology sociolinguistics World Englishes ELF and African studies

The Developing World and State Education Dave Hill, Ellen Rosskam, 2009-01-13 This book critically examines neoliberal policy impacts on schooling education in the Developing World analysing the latest developments in Latin America Mexico Argentina Venezuela Pakistan India Burkina Faso South Africa Mozambique and China #FeesMustFall and Youth Mobilisation in South Africa Musawenkosi Ndlovu, 2017-07-14 Cover Title Copyright Contents Preface Introduction and rationale 1 The view of South African youth before FeesMustFall 2 Were the 2015 student protests a revolution 3 What the 2015 protests actually were and how they were possible 4 Ikhohlisan ihlomile FMF students engagement with power and their ideological differences 5 Can South Africa's declining economy inspire student led new revolution 6 Youth's declining news consumption levels and ideologically divided media 7 Youth's polysemic interpretation of the ANC regime and the limits of the new revolution 8 Youth's declining participation levels in the public sphere the constraints of new revolution 9 Conclusion FMF protests will not lead to a revolution per se at least not yet but to wide ranging reforms References Index Controlled Natural Language Brian Davis, Kaarel Kaljurand, Tobias Kuhn, 2014-07-21 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 4th International Workshop on Controlled Natural Language CNL 2014 held in Galway Ireland in August 2014 The 17 full papers and one invited paper presented were carefully reviewed and selected from 26 submissions The topics include simplified language plain language formalized language processable language fragments of language phraseologies conceptual authoring language generation and guided natural language interfaces Clever Blacks, Jesus and Nkandla Gareth Van Onselen, 2014-05-08 Jacob Zuma is a man who walks in two worlds As president of South Africa he is tasked with upholding the principles that define the Constitution and embodying the values they are designed to engender But as an individual a set of private impulses ranging from his religious beliefs to his traditional African cultural convictions to a populist and patriarchal attitude to power defines his world view and many of these impulses run counter to the Bill of Rights The result is an often violent clash between his formal duties and more informal demagogic instincts South Africa's public debate is where that conflict plays itself out Here Gareth van Onselen has put together a comprehensive collection of Zuma's most controversial and often contradictory public statements With some 350 quotes collected along ten themes that define Zuma's personal beliefs Clever Blacks Jesus and Nkandla documents some of Zuma's most notorious moments It aims to serve as both an easy guide to Zuma's personal philosophy and a reference point for some of the debates that have defined his political career The quotes represent one of the fundamental fault lines that run through South African discourse today a society trapped between its Third World realities and its much vaunted First World ambitions In many ways Zuma is the epicentre around which the subsequent debate has unfolded New African Intellectuals and New African Political Thought in the Twentieth Century Mbukeni Herbert Mnguni, 2015 This book is purposely and deliberately entitled New African Intellectuals and New African Political Thought in the Twentieth Century It encapsulates the recent debate about the political and cultural role played by the New African intellectuals in developing modern African political thought The authors argue that the New African Intellectuals was a culturally and politically dominant movement of the twentieth century despite the fact that it was suppressed and oppressed by white colonialism and racism It was a political and cultural expression of the oppressed and disposed people During its cultural and political splay the New African Intellectuals was preoccupied with three inseparable historical issues forming the concept of the New African constructing the foundations of African modernity and formulating the principles of African Nationalism Offering fresh insights that are both empirically and theoretically informed this book illuminates the processes and consequences of the New African scholars and writers The political contribution made by the New African intellectuals is traced from its origins in literature music and language The discussion concludes with an exploration of the dilemma faced by African languages as they are dominated by European languages The authors argue that this dominance has resulted to the petrification and mummification of African languages because outstanding even great African writers are not using them in relation to modern technological and linguistic experience The authors believe that this broad ranging book will be of interest to all those studying African politics and culture and who are concerned with understanding modern African societies in the light of post colonialism

British Royal Visits and Black Loyalism in Twentieth-century Southern Africa Hilary Sapire, 2024-10-31 Exploring the entwined histories of British royal visits to Southern Africa in the twentieth century this book analyses the clashing voices of dissent and cheering crowds that accompanied royal tours providing insight into the shifting nature of Black loyalism Originating in the Indigenous empire loyalism of eighteenth century Canada Black loyalism encompassed loyalty to the British crown and a shared ideology of rights and entitlements which positioned the crown as a source of protection against white settler rapacity colonial violence and racial oppression However expressions of monarchical devotion were often double edged and addressed the fundamental contradiction of a crown that was both the source of rights and complicit in colonial conquest appropriation and misrule It was on royal occasions such as jubilees coronation celebrations and especially royal visits when the sovereign was literally amongst their more distant subjects that loyalist sentiment was rekindled reinvented and made directly relevant to the concerns of the day By analysing change and continuity in Black perspectives towards both the British and Indigenous African monarchy during these visits this book offers a fruitful way into examining an array of Black Southern African discourses on governance political values and cultural identities across the region It argues that the refashioning of British imperial monarchy in the twentieth century was profoundly shaped by African initiatives and re imaginings and provides valuable reading for those researching imperialism popular attitudes to the British monarchy in the twentieth century and the diverse politics and identities of southern Africa
