Moon, 2010-06-28 Story is everywhere in human lives and cultures and it features strongly in the processes of teaching and learning Story can be called narrative case study critical incident life history anecdote scenario illustration or example creative writing storytelling it is a unit of communication it is in the products of the media industries in therapy and in our daily acts of reflecting Stories are told in many ways they are spoken written filmed mimed or acted presented as cartoons and in new media formats and through all these they are associated with both teaching and learning processes but in different ways and at different levels As a result of growing interest and simultaneous confusion about story it is timely to untangle the various meanings of story so that we can draw out and extend its value and use Using Story aims to clarify what we mean by story to seek out where story occurs in education and life and to explore the processes by which we learn from story In this way the book intends to bring story into the open and improve its use Building on her wealth of experience in the field Jenny Moon explores the theory of story

Austria Hungary around 1900 The book also provides a re evaluation of the phenomenon of modern Ritual Murder Trials by placing them into the context of wider narratives of Jewish crime
