Faith and Feminism Barbara Diane Lipsett, Phyllis Trible, 2014-01-01 Faith and Feminism unlocks storehouses of words old and new The subtitle Ecumenical Essays indicates that these words these tongues belong to women of faith around the world women who speak in diverse settings and situations Though all the contributors claim the noun feminism their developments of it range widely To present their testimonies and engage the results marks the purpose of this book Where dissonance and harmony intersect among writers there readers confront choices which in turn become their own testimonies from Chapter 1 Sexism and Sin-Talk Rachel Sophia Baard, 2020-01-01 Early feminist theologians criticized the Christian doctrine of sin for its focus on female sexual purity and its enabling of the marginalization and oppression of women Others have questioned whether the entire theological category of sin should be abandoned in favor of other ways of talking about the human predicament In this new book Rachel Baard argues for a feminist critique of traditional sin talk alongside a constructive reinterpretation of the doctrine of sin one that can be life affirming for all persons She claims that the Christian idea of sin that tragic flaw at the core of human experience provides one of the best tools for understanding the evils of sexism patriarchy and traditional sin talk itself She likewise provides a new rhetoric of sin talk one that accounts for the diverse experiences of the human family not simply those of powerful men

I (Still) Believe Zondervan, 2015-09-01 I Still Believe explores the all important question of whether serious academic study of the Bible is threatening to one's faith Far from it faith enhances study of the Bible and reciprocally such study enriches a person's faith With this in mind this book asks prominent Bible teachers and scholars to tell their story reflecting on their own experiences at the intersection of faith and serious academic study of the Bible While the essays of this book will provide some apology for academic study of the Bible as an important discipline the essays engage with this question in ways that are uncontrived They present real stories with all the complexities and struggles they may hold To this end the contributors do two things a reflect on their lives as someone who teaches and researches the Bible providing something of a story outlining their journey of life and faith and their self understanding as a biblical theologian and b provide focused reflections on how faith has made a difference how it has changed and what challenges have arisen remained and are unresolved all with a view toward the future and engaging the book's main question engaging the book's main question

Before You Were Born, I Anointed You Anna Beresford, 2022-09-12 Prophetic ministry in the Bible has long been perceived as the exclusive domain of individuals who were powerful authoritative argumentative and almost always male This impression cannot be sustained In a logical and engaging way Anna Beresford convincingly shows us that female characters throughout the biblical story are not merely peripheral actors but are often the ones who proclaim God's prophetic word with disturbing clarity Beginning with the few women acknowledged as prophets in the Hebrew scriptural tradition Beresford proceeds to uncover a surprising host of hidden female prophets Among this cast we meet the widow whose last penny is consumed by organized religion the gate crasher who teaches a pious Pharisee stern lessons in hospitality a woman who has the last word in a theological debate A woman used to trap Jesus proclaims truth to power and a feisty foreign lady cleverly proves that God's love is for all of us regardless of gender or ethnicity This book is a compelling reminder that God speaks to all people women and men and calls on us to share the message whether it is convenient or not 2 Tim 4 2 NET

Committed Spirituality Ottmar Fuchs, 2019-11-13 Christian faith can lead to a spirituality that can give strength and energy for just action Conversely human solidarity can open us up to the contents of the Christian faith Christian hope in particular opens us to a universal solidarity that does not exclude others and never serves only one's own areas without others Ottmar Fuchs has spelled out this connection in his entire practical theology in many works and now presents here important results of his work in collected form for an English language readership The churches are at the service of this commitment for all people In the acute disputes between identitarian fundamentalist and open universal solidararian formations the author represents the position of a faith that accepts all people into the love of God and an ethics not limited by any borders It is the vote for a church that is more self giving than victorious at the expense of others and that profiles all its instruments from the social and ritual organization of the church to its respective external relations in such a way It is about a format of faith and church that does even not release the respective exclusivistic parts in churches and in society from the caring responsibility

Liberating Privilege David O. Woodyard, 2016-11-25 With uninterrogated legitimacy a number of straight white males have authored contributions to liberation theology No Pedagogy of the Privileged exists to problematize their initiatives Conveniently ignored is the condition of liberation theology that its matrix is singularity oppression Does the setting of privilege disqualify their initiatives Straight white males are seldom victims of oppressive forces more often they are the perpetrators Privilege like radon permeates their context Is privilege fatal Is it possible to dislocate Is there precedence for an authentic contribution Liberating Privilege addresses the liability of context and develops a response from Scripture Ultimately it hinges on The breakthrough of God and aligns with it

The Theology of Mercy Amba Oduyoye Oluwatomisin Olayinka Oredein, 2023-05-15 This illuminating study explores African theologian Mercy Amba Oduyoye's constructive initiative to include African women's experiences and voices within Christian theological discourse Mercy Amba Oduyoye a renowned Ghanaian Methodist theologian has worked for decades to address issues of poverty women's rights and global unrest. She is one of the founders of the Circle of Concerned African Women Theologians, a pan-African ecumenical organization that mentors the next generation of African women theologians to counter the dearth of academic theological literature written by African women. This book offers an in-depth analysis of Oduyoye's life and work, providing a much-needed corrective to Eurocentric colonial and patriarchal theologies by centering the experiences of African women as a starting point from which theological reflection might begin. Oluwatomisin Olayinka Oredein's study begins by narrating the story of Mercy Oduyoye's life, focusing on her early years which led to her eventual interest in women's equality and African women's theology. At the heart of the book is a close analysis of Oduyoye's theological thought, exploring her unique approach to four issues: the doctrine of God, Christology, theological anthropology, and ecclesiology. Through the course of these examinations, Oredein shows how Oduyoye's life story and theological output are intimately intertwined. Stories of gender formation, racial ideas, and cultural foundations teem throughout Oduyoye's construction of a Christian theological story. Oduyoye shows that one's theology does not leave particularity behind but rather becomes the locus in which the fullness of divinity might be known.

Experiencing the Shepherd of Hermas Angela Kim Harkins, Harry O. Maier, 2022-06-06. The Shepherd of Hermas is one of the oldest and most well-attested Christian works. Its popularity arguably exceeded that of the canonical Gospels. Many early Christian thinkers regarded the Shepherd as authoritative and cited it in their own writings, even though its status as Scripture was controversial. The far-reaching influence of the Shepherd during the first few centuries is attested in part by the many languages in which it was copied: Latin, Ethiopic, Coptic, Middle Persian, and Georgian. The early dating and wide dissemination of the Shepherd of Hermas offers us access to a period when canonical boundaries were elastic. This volume treats religious experience in the Shepherd, a topic that has received little scholarly attention. It complements a growing body of literature that explores the text from social-historical perspectives. Leading scholars approach it from a variety of interdisciplinary perspectives, including critical literary theory, anthropology, cognitive science, affect theory, gender studies, intersectionality, and text reception. In doing so, they pose fresh questions to one of the most widely read texts in the early church, offering new insights to scholars and students alike.

A Poetics of Postcolonial Biblical Criticism Aliou Cisse Niang, 2019-12-18. Telling in current biblical postcolonial discourse that draws insights from the works of Aimé Césaire, Frantz Fanon, and postcolonial theorists is the missing contribution of Léopold Sédar Senghor, the architect of Negritude. If mentioned at all, Senghor is often read through conclusions drawn by his critics or dismissed altogether as irrelevant to postcolonialism. Restored to its rightful place, Senghorian Negritude is a postcolonial lens for reading Scripture and other faith traditions with a view to reposition, conscientize, liberate, and rehabilitate the conquered and enable them to reclaim their faith traditions and practices that once directed a mutual relationship between God, human, and nature, a delicate symbiosis before the French colonial advent in West Africa. A keen eye for cross-cultural analysis and contextualization enriched this volume with an intriguing reading of scripture Ancient Near Eastern and Greco Roman texts in conversation with other faith traditions particularly Senegalese Diola Religion As a Poetics of Postcolonial Biblical Criticism Negritude is an optic through which people of faith may look around themselves critically reread their sacred texts reassess their vocation and practice mutuality with God and nature on the heels of chilling climate change Enshrined in this innovative argument is a call for introspection and challenge for people of faith to assume their vocation human participatory agency
