The Future of High-Skilled Workers

Ingrid Kofler,Elisa Innerhofer,Anja Marcher,Mirjam Gruber,Harald Pechlaner,2020-06-27 The nature of work is changing due to demographic shifts globalization and digitization Regional local labor markets are in global competition for highly qualified and specialized workers At the same time the workforce's desire for flexibility and the increasing speed at which skill requirements are changing are producing disparities at the spatial social and economic levels This book discusses the global and local drivers behind these developments It explores the factors which cause global inequalities between urban and rural areas and highlights how cities regions and countries attract these sought after employees to address skills shortages The book includes an in depth case study on high skilled workers in South Tyrol Italy No single academic discipline can adequately capture the dynamics of the future labor market and the authors therefore take an interdisciplinary approach combining insights from different disciplines This book will be a valuable resource for policymakers students and researchers seeking to understand the driving forces behind the ever changing labor market and the future of high skilled work Sustainable Smart City Transitions Luca Mora,Mark Deakin,Xiaoling Zhang,Michael Batty,Martin de Jong,Paolo Santi,Francesco Paolo Appio,2022-02-23 This book enhances the reader s understanding of the theoretical foundations sociotechnical assemblage and governance mechanisms of sustainable smart city transitions Drawing on empirical evidence stemming from existing smart city research the book begins by advancing a theory of sustainable smart city transitions which forms bridges between smart city development studies and some of the key assumptions underpinning transition management and system innovation research human geography spatial planning and critical urban scholarship This interdisciplinary theoretical formulation details how smart city transitions unfold and how they should be conceptualized and enacted in order to be assembled as sustainable developments The proposed theory of sustainable smart city transitions is then enriched by the findings of investigations into the planning and implementation of smart city transition strategies and projects Focusing on different empirical settings change dimensions and analytical elements the attention moves from the sociotechnical requirements of citywide transition pathways to the development of sector specific smart city projects and technological innovations in particular in the fields of urban mobility and urban governance This book represents a relevant reference work for academic and practitioner audiences policy makers and representative of smart city industries The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Urban Technology The Search for Entrepreneurship Simon Bridge,2016-12-08 Since the 1980s governments have often sought to encourage entrepreneurship on the assumption that it creates small businesses as the primary drivers of job creation As a result entrepreneurship has become a valid subject for academic research attracting extensive funding Despite this explosion of scholarship there is no accepted model of how entrepreneurship operates or even a commonly accepted definition of what it is Simon Bridge posits that this is because entrepreneurship has been studied based on the false assumption that it exists as a specific discrete identifiable phenomenon operating in accordance with consistent predictable rules So this misdirected search has produced more questions than answers Accepting that entrepreneurship as we have conceived it does not exist could lead to new and valuable insights into what the different forms of entrepreneurship are and how they might be influenced Scholars advanced students and policy makers will find this a thought provoking insight into the misconceptions of entrepreneurship ICIE 2018 6th International Conference on Innovation and Entrepreneurship Dr. Denise A. D. Bedford, Dr. Elias G. Carayannis, 2018-03-05 These proceedings represent the work of researchers participating in the 6th International Conference on Innovation and Entrepreneurship ICIE 2018 which is being co hosted by Georgetown University and George Washington University and is being held at The University of the District of Columbia UDC on 5 6 March 2018

The Case against Education Bryan Caplan, 2019-08-20 Why we need to stop wasting public funds on education Despite being immensely popular and immensely lucrative education is grossly overrated Now with a new afterword by Bryan Caplan this explosive book argues that the primary function of education is not to enhance students skills but to signal the qualities of a good employee Learn why students hunt for easy As only to forget most of what they learn after the final exam why decades of growing access to education have not resulted in better jobs for average workers how employers reward workers for costly schooling they rarely ever use and why cutting education spending is the best remedy Romantic notions about education being good for the soul must yield to careful research and common sense The Case against Education points the way
