Open to Think Dan Pontefract, 2018-09-11

While it may not occur to us on a daily basis there is a widespread cultural tendency toward quick decisions and quick action This pattern has resulted in many of our society's greatest successes but even more of its failures Though the root cause is by no means malicious we have begun to reward speed over quality and the negative effects suffered in both our personal and professional lives are potentially catastrophic Best selling author and Chief Envisioner Dan Pontefract offers the solution to this predicament with what he coins Open Thinking a cyclical process in which creativity is encouraged critiquing leads to better decisions and thoughtful action delivers positive sustainable results He proposes a return to balance between the three components of productive thought dreaming deciding and doing Based on organizational and societal data academic research historical studies and a wide range of interviews Open to Think is an appeal for a world of better thinking

Pontefract introduces tangible actionable strategies to improve the way we think as organizations and individuals

The Depoliticisation of Greece's Public Revenue Administration Dionyssi Dimitrakopoulos, Argyris Passas, 2019-09-25

This book analyses the reform of Greece's public revenue administration promoted by its international lenders under the successive bailout agreements put in place since 2010 In particular it shows how an integral part of the finance ministry was converted into an independent agency operating largely outside the direct control of the finance minister The authors focus on the implementation of this major reform and demonstrate the impact of domestic decisions on the increasing specificity of the international lenders demands and the concomitant lack of confidence in the Greek political elite's commitment to the reform package This book helps readers understand the response to the eurozone crisis especially the conditionality of funding Greece's reform capacity with a focus on its tax administration and the expansion of the scope of non majoritarian institutions in Western democracies

The Coming of New Industrial State Sergey Bodrunov, 2024-02-20

The book explores the effect of modern technological shifts on human society showing that technologies are undergoing accelerating qualitative changes that open up new opportunities for personal development and satisfaction of wants and simultaneously engender risks associated with growing opportunities of human interference with nature and technogenic stress on the environment Based on the study of cutting edge technologies and resulting socioeconomic shifts Bodrunov's analysis outlines the shape of the civilizational crisis we face It can only be overcome by founding a new industrial society of the second generation if we consider the new industrial state described by J K Galbraith as the first generation reliant on knowledge intensive material production and the gradual removal of humans from immediate material production
