NONFICTION PASSAGES

SPORTS

Playing sports involves participating in physical activities that involve structured rules and competition. It can be done individually or as part of a team. Sports offer numerous benefits for individuals, both physically and mentally. Engaging in sports helps improve physical fitness, strength, coordination, and agility. It promotes cardiovascular health and can contribute to weight management. Additionally, sports provide opportunities for social interaction, teamwork, and building friendships. They teach valuable life skills such as discipline, dedication, and perseverance. Playing sports also encourages mental well-being by reducing stress and promoting a positive mindset. It can help develop important life skills such as decision-making and problem-solving, as well as foster a sense of community and belonging.

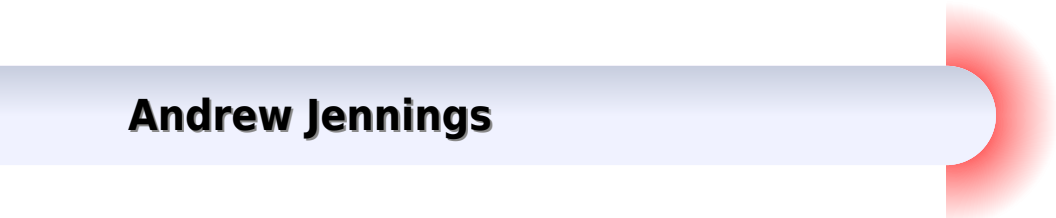

THINGS

Protecting things is really important because they are treasured and have emotional value. Things are important for their usefulness, as well as for their sentimental value. Things are often passed down from one generation to the next, and they can be a source of pride and joy. Things can also be a source of stress and worry, especially if they are lost or damaged. It's important to take good care of things and to protect them from harm. This can be done by keeping things in a safe place, using them carefully, and making sure they are properly maintained. Things are a part of our lives, and they can make a big difference in how we feel and how we live.
