

Steps in factoring completely:

1. Look for the GCF

$$\begin{aligned} & \bullet 8t^4 - 32t^3 + 40t \\ & \quad = 8t(t^3 - 4t + 5) \end{aligned}$$

2. Look for special cases.

a. difference of two squares

$$\begin{aligned} & \bullet 4x^2 - 9y^2 = \\ & \quad (2x)^2 - (3y)^2 \end{aligned}$$

b. perfect square trinomial

$$\begin{aligned} & \bullet x^2 + 8x + 16 = \\ & \quad x^2 + 8x + 42 = (x + 4)^2 \end{aligned}$$

3. If a trinomial is not a perfect square, look for two different binomial factors.

$$\begin{aligned} & \bullet x^2 + 11x - 10 \\ & \quad = (x + 10)(x - 1) \end{aligned}$$

The fact college students often struggle in mathematics is not new They exhibit a great deal of anxiety dislike and overall disinterest Quantitative data displaying abysmal student success rates are widely available and shared This book explores the complexity surrounding the issue of student difficulties in community college math Though much quantitative research focuses on the faculty experiences and perspectives regarding methods and practices the author puts the focus on students experiences The book presents the results of a study focused on students who struggled in mathematics Though their experiences varied they all entered community college with a great deal of disgust and anxiety toward mathematics courses and requirements These impressions and attitudes create barriers to success. However, all the students eventually succeeded in fulfilling their college level mathematics requirement. The author presents these students' experiences prior to entering community college, what led to both success and failure in their math courses, and the common themes leading to success and failure. Through these student responses, the author assists readers in gaining a better understanding of the community college student who struggles in math and how to break students' community college math barriers to success.

Randall E. Groth, 2012-08-10

A journey into the vibrant and intriguing world of mathematics education. Teaching Mathematics in Grades 6-12 explores how research in mathematics education can inform teaching practice in grades 6-12. The author shows secondary mathematics teachers the value of being a researcher in the classroom by constantly experimenting with methods for developing students' mathematical thinking and then connecting this research to practices that enhance students' understanding of the material. The chapters in Part I introduce secondary teachers to the field of mathematics education with cross-cutting issues that apply to teaching and learning in all mathematics content areas. The chapters in Part II are devoted to specific mathematics content strands and describe how students think about mathematical concepts. The goal of the text is to have secondary math teachers gain a deeper understanding of the types of mathematical knowledge their students bring to grade 6-12 classrooms and how students' thinking may develop in response to different teaching strategies.
