3. Weigh each piece.
4. Place potato in different concentration sugar solutions.
5. Leave all three pieces for 2 hours.
6. Remove the three pieces of potato from the solutions.
7. Dry each piece on a paper towel.
8. Measure the length and mass of each piece of potato.

What two changes would you expect in tube A after 2 hours? _____

Active Transport

This paragraph is about moving substances by active transport. Complete the paragraph using the words from the box.

|     |              |        |      |

Active transport allows movement of substances from areas of _____ concentration to areas of _____ concentration.

It requires the breakdown of _____ to provide the _____ for active transport.

This is provided during cell _____.

Cells that carry out lots of active transport will usually have many _____.

Name one example of where active transport is used in humans and plants.

Humans: _____

Plants: _____

Meiosis

Meiosis is the process by which body cells divide. Each cell divides to produce two daughter cells, which are genetically identical to each other.

A cell cycle has four stages shown in the numbered images on the left. Label the images using the following names.

DNA replication    movement of chromosomes
cytokinesis    growth of daughter cells

Number the following sentences to describe the process of mitosis. The first one has been done for you.

|   |                                                                |
|---|----------------------------------------------------------------|
|   | Chromosomes align across the centre of the cell                |
|   | Nuclear membranes form                                         |
| 1 | A cell grows in size and mass and chromosomes are replicated   |
|   | One copy of each chromosome moves to opposite ends of the cell |
|   | The cell membrane and cytoplasm divide                         |
|   | The nuclear membrane breaks down                               |

Cell Differentiation

During the development of a multicellular organism, cells differentiate. What does this mean?

Match the specialised cell with the correct adaptation and function.

| Cell           | Adaptation                       | Function                             |
|----------------|----------------------------------|--------------------------------------|
| Ciliated cell  | Can expand                       | Move mucus for haemoglobin molecules |
| Palate cell    | Contains many chloroplasts       | photosynthesis                       |
| Sperm cell     | Has the structure in the surface | Swim towards ovum                    |
| Fat cell       | Contains enzymes in acrosome     | Fat storage                          |
| Red blood cell | No nucleus                       | Breaks down outer layer of ovum      |

Label the sperm cell adaptations and explain the reason for each one.

Stem Cells

| undifferentiated |     | differentiation |        |

Stem cells in animals are _____. They can undergo the process of _____ to become specialised to carry out a particular role. There are two main types of stem cell in animals, embryonic stem cells and _____ stem cells. Stem cells in mature animals are restricted in what type of cell they can become. embryonic stem cells can become _____ cell in the organism. Embryonic stem cells can divide through the process of _____ to make a whole organism. Fully developed animals contain stem cells for their entire lives to help them _____ damaged tissues.

The figure left shows one area where stem cells can be found in a plant. What is this called? _____
