Drum ,2006 The Condition of Primary and Secondary Education in Gauteng (1995/1996) Adél Hartley,1998

Glimpses into Primary School Teacher Education in South Africa Sarah Gravett,Elizabeth Henning,2020-11-05

This book explores the current landscape of Initial Teacher Education ITE in primary schools in South Africa Considering recent policy directives and initiatives it highlights the dilemmas of ITE for the primary school and gives a thorough account of innovations and initiatives to improve ITE The book presents what works best for quality preparation of teachers in the Global South where many children rely on their teachers and school life to break the cycle of poverty Chapters draw on evidence from workplace learning pre service study and primary school teacher education policy to highlight examples of promising change in teacher education in South Africa addressing the clichés of theory versus practice head on This book successfully brings out the challenging aspects of teacher education for childhood learning which has otherwise been regarded as the softer option for a career in education This book will be of great interest for academics researchers and post graduate students in the fields of teacher education African education educational policy international education and comparative education South African national bibliography ,1999 Classified list with author and title index Marking Matric Vijay Reddy,2006 The past ten years in South Africa has seen many changes in education the creation of a single department of education common examinations for all learners in public schools in the country a new outcomes based education curriculum which was introduced to learners in the general education and training phase since 1998 and will be introduced to the further education and training phase from 2006 To evaluate the success of these changes South African researchers still use the indicator of student achievement The matriculation examination is the visible high profile and public performance indicator Every year parents learners teachers researchers government officials policymakers and the general public get involved in the debate around the matric examination with the most frequently asked questions being Did the pass rate go up Are standards dropping Are the results real or have they been manipulated How is our education system doing Are we meeting the development goals What should the matriculation examination of the future look like participants from government national and provincial Reviews of National Policies for Education: South Africa 2008

OECD,2008-09-05 Gives a brief overview of regional issues and the history of education in South Africa and describes the development of education in the country over the past 15 years It presents an analysis of the education system identifying key directions for The Legal Status of Pupils in Europe Jan De Groof,Hilde Penneman,1998-03-26 In the centre of the whole educational cosmos stands the pupil the student He or she has rights sanctioned by a national and international judicial apparatus The freedoms of parents teachers and education establishments are functional in the service of the rights of the user of education as is the government's assignment They hold a joint responsibility with regard to the right of a young person to be educated and a fortiori of the school age young person The context in which education takes place is nevertheless undergoing major change In recent times schools have been presenting themselves more as brittle social institutions sensitive to internal and external conflicts If every education establishment is a crossroads of legal relationships this does not leave the pupil or student untouched He or she can seek recourse to fundamental rights but against these can be set certain obligations and in the first place the obligation to take account of the rights of fellow pupils and students Educational sociologists have for some time been interested in the relationship between the behaviour of pupils and the quality and effectiveness of the school I Practitioners of law in general and education law in particular could not ignore the legal status of the education user It immediately became apparent how interwoven education is with a diversity of disciplines within the legal domain as well as with other scientific disciplines
