Designing Learning Environments for Developing Understanding of Geometry and Space Richard Lehrer, Daniel Chazan, 2012-11-12 This volume reflects an appreciation of the interactive roles of subject matter teacher student and technologies in designing classrooms that promote understanding of geometry and space Although these elements of geometry education are mutually constituted the book is organized to highlight first the editors vision of a general geometry education second the development of student thinking in everyday and classroom contexts and third the role of technologies Rather than looking to high school geometry as the locus and all too often the apex of geometric reasoning the contributors to this volume suggest that reasoning about space can and should be successfully integrated with other forms of mathematics starting at the elementary level and continuing through high school Reintegrating spatial reasoning into the mathematical mainstream indeed placing it at the core of K 12 mathematics environments that promote learning with understanding will mean increased attention to problems in modeling structure and design and reinvigoration of traditional topics such as measure dimension and form Further the editors position is that the teaching of geometry and spatial visualization in school should not be compressed into a characterization of Greek geometry but should include attention to contributions to the mathematics of space that developed subsequent to those of the Greeks This volume is essential reading for those involved in mathematics education at all levels including university faculty researchers and graduate students Jessica Kanold-McIntyre,Matthew R. Larson,2015-01-28 Focus your curriculum to heighten student achievement Learn 10 high leverage team actions for grades 6 8 mathematics instruction and assessment Discover the actions your team should take before a unit of instruction begins as well as the actions and formative assessments that should occur during instruction Examine how to most effectively reflect on assessment results and prepare for the next unit of instruction JEBPS Vol 14-N2 Journal of Evidence-Based Practices for Schools,2014-11-25 The Journal of Evidence Based Practices for Schools is a leader in publishing research to practice articles for educators and school psychologists The mission of this journal is to positively influence the daily practice of school based professionals through studies demonstrating successful research based practices in educational settings As a result the editors are committed to publishing articles with an eye toward improving student performance and outcomes by advancing psychological and educational practices in the schools They seek articles using non technical language that 1 outline an evidence based practice 2 describe the literature supporting the effectiveness and theoretical underpinnings of the practice 3 describe the findings of a study in which the practice was implemented in an educational setting and 4 provide readers with information they need to implement the practice in their own schools in a section entitled Implementation Guidelines The Journal of Evidence Based Practices for Schools differs from other scholarly journals in that it features articles that demonstrate empirically based procedures for readers to apply the practice in their setting Differentiating Instruction in the Regular Classroom Diane Heacox,2012-08-28 This updated edition presents a practical introduction to differentiation and explains how to differentiate instruction in a wide range of settings to provide variety and challenge Chapters focus on evaluation in a differentiated classroom and how to manage both behavior and work tasks The book includes connections to Common Core State Standards Digital content includes a PowerPoint presentation for professional development customizable forms from the book and curriculum maps workcards and matrix plans Advantage Math Grade 1 Creative Teaching Press,2004-04 Elementary and Secondary Education Amendments of 1966 United States.
