QUESTION 3

- 3.1 Read the passage below and answer the questions that follow.

Peat lands are special wetlands that play a very important role in ecology. A peat land, of approximately 6 000 years old, near Mafeking is almost destroyed because of excessive extraction of water from the nearby Molopo river. The water is extracted for human consumption.

Peat lands like the one near Mafeking is exceptional and play an important role in storing water as well as preventing climate changes.

Dr Phil-Louis Grundling said that carbon that is 'held' or 'stored' by peat lands combats climate change because it decreases the amount of carbon in the atmosphere.

Peat lands trap about one third of the world's carbon. Approximately 50% of wetlands worldwide are peat lands. However in South Africa about 10% of the wetlands are peat lands.

Grundling explained that peat lands can hold about 1 000 times its own mass in water. This replenishes the water table and is the source that keeps streams flowing. The "sponge effect" of the peat also makes it possible to store water that is then released during dry seasons.

Dr Grundling said that it might be too late to restore the peat land near Mafeking but it might be possible to restore some parts of it if more water is supplied to this peat land.

The result of this destruction is depletion of the water table. The habitat of numerous fish and frog species that lived in this peat land was also destroyed.

From: Beeld: 24 September 2016.

- 3.1.1 Give TWO other reasons (not mentioned in the passage) that can lead to the destruction of wetlands. (2)
- 3.1.2 Discuss reasons from the passage regarding the importance of these specific wetlands for the environment. (4)
- 3.1.3 Suggest a way in which this peat land near Mafeking can be restored. (2)

The Invention of Childhood Creativity Cat Martins, 2024-11-15 This text offers a comprehensive analysis of the concept of the modern creative and imaginative child in Western education Drawing on archived sources and historical works it reframes childhood creativity as a social cultural and scientific construction asking how our thinking and acting toward the creative child have been produced historically The text dissects the discursive construction of creativity as a natural and developmental attribute of the child It argues that the idea of the White creative child constructed through comparative reasoning shaped by primitivism and illustrated through botanical metaphors as close to nature and the senses is a notion embedded with colonialities forming part of a Western civilizing project and entrenched power knowledge relations A compelling and original account of childhood creativity this text will appeal to researchers in arts education early childhood education curriculum studies and the history of education
