Cooperative Environments for Distributed Systems Engineering Khalil Drira,Andrea Martelli,Thierry Villemur,2003-06-30 The engineering life cycle for complex systems design and development where partners are dispersed in different locations requires the set up of adequate and controlled processes involving many different disciplines The design integration and the final system physical functional integration and qualification imply a high degree of cross interaction among the partners The place technical information systems supporting the life cycle activities are specialized with respect to the needs of each actor in the process chain and are highly heterogeneous between them To globally innovate in place processes specialists must be able to work as a unique team in a virtual enterprise model To this aim it is necessary to make interoperable the different technical information systems and to define cooperative engineering processes which take into account distributed roles, shared activities and distributed process controls. In this frame, an innovative study aimed at addressing this process with the goal of identifying proper solutions in terms of design implementation and deployment has been carried out with the support of the European Community and the participation of major industrial companies and research centers.
