A Transformation Gap? Theo

Farrell, Terriff Terry, Osinga Frans, 2010-04-07 NATO member states are all undergoing some form of military transformation Despite a shared vision transformation has been primarily a US led process centered on the exploitation of new information technologies in combination with new concepts for networked organizations and effects based operations Simply put European states have been unable to match the level of US investment in new military technologies leading to the identification of a growing transformation gap between the US and the European allies This book assesses the extent and trajectory of military transformation across a range of European NATO member states setting their transformation progress against that of the US and examining the complex mix of factors driving military transformation in each country It reveals not only the nature and extent of the transatlantic gap but also identifies an enormous variation in the extent and pace of transformation among the European allies suggesting both technological and operational gaps within Europe

Public Choice Roel Landingin, 2017-11-22 Public Choice The Life of Armand V Fabella in Government and Education chronicles the legacy of Armand V Fabella as a talented dedicated civil servant and educator who had worked with six presidents from Ramon Magsaysay in the 1950s to Gloria Macapagal Arroyo in the 2000s and as senior government adviser and Education secretary Penned by business journalist Roel Landingin Public Choice is more than a biography of a remarkable Filipino who dedicated most of his life to public service It is also the story of Philippine economic policy making in the last half century

Deciding what Has to be Done Paul Hardy Herbert, 1988 This paper deals with the writing of doctrine and focuses on the efforts of General DePuy the first TRADOC commander to forge a coherent fighting doctrine for an increasingly complex Army in a time of turmoil While the author praises DePuy's emphasis on doctrine and doctrinal change he charges DePuy with creating a document that failed to engender confidence and thus had to be replaced Nevertheless DePuy's important manual revealed a new role for doctrine and sparked a doctrinal renaissance in the Army that led directly to today's widely accepted AirLandBattle doctrine This demonstrates that a well conceived doctrine is critical to the Army and the nation describes why doctrine is so difficult to formulate places doctrine at the center of peacetime professionalism and admonishes the Army not to become complacent about the contents of its field manuals
