La Sainte Ignorance Le Temps De La Religion Sans Culture

Doris H. Gray

La Sainte Ignorance Le Temps De La Religion Sans Culture:

La sainte ignorance Olivier Roy, 2012-01 Ce livre tente de montrer que la crise des religions visible travers la poussée fondamentaliste vient d'une disjonction croissante entre religion et culture. Le religieux demeure pour ainsi dire isolé, sorti des cultures traditionnelles où il est au cœur des nouvelles cultures où il est censé disparaître. De cette schizophrénie naissent selon O. Roy la plupart des phénomènes religieux d'aujourd'hui. Il en résulte une approche très neuve du phénomène religieux avec des questions essentielles posées par notre actualité: quel rapport entre religion et culture, religion et civilisation? Mais d'abord qu'est-ce qu'une culture, une civilisation? La culture doit-elle être en opposition ou en accord avec le fait religieux? Que fait-on de la culture de celui qu'on veut convertir? Que devient la religion de celui qui est déraciné de sa culture d'origine? Comment la culture mondialisée transforme-t-elle le religieux? De nombreux exemples pris dans l'islam et le christianisme contemporain illustrent une réflexion qui explique la conjoncture religieuse étrange de notre temps.

Rethinking the Space for Religion Catharina Raudvere, Krzysztof Stala, Trine Stauning Willert, 2015-02-01 A broad discussion about how history and religion contribute to identity politics in contemporary Europe, this book provides case studies exemplifying how public intellectuals and academics have taken an active part in the construction of recent and traditional pasts. Instead of repeating the simplistic explanation as a return of religion, this volume focuses on public platforms and agents and their use of religion as a political and cultural argument. Filled with previously unpublished data gathered from texts, interviews, field observations, artifacts, and material culture, this record challenges stereotypical images of East and Southeast Europe.

Muslim Women in the Economy Shamim Samani, Dora Marinova, 2020-03-27 This book explores the changing role of Muslim women in the economy in the twenty-first century. Sociological developments such as secular education, female-focused policies, national and global commitments to gender equality, as well as contemporary technological advances have all served to shift and redefine the domestic and public roles of Muslim women, leading in many places to increases in workplace participation and entrepreneurship. The volume investigates the contexts of these shifts and the experiences of women balancing faith and other commitments to actively engage in the economy in vastly different countries. The book looks at how family codes and the understandings of Muslim male and female roles sit alongside social and economic advances and the increases in women partaking in the economy. Within a globalised world, it also highlights the importance of the implementation of the current sustainable development priorities in the context of Muslim societies, including Sustainable Development Goal 5 that focuses on the vital role of women and their full participation in all areas of sustainable development. With cases ranging from Saudi Arabia, Iran, Bangladesh, Pakistan, Indonesia, Nigeria, Kenya, through to Spain, Bulgaria, and Australia, Muslim Women in the Economy will be of considerable interest to those studying, researching, and interested in gender development and religious studies.

Religions as Brands Jean-Claude Usunier, Jörg Stolz, 2016-04-01

During the twentieth century religion has gone on the market place Churches and religious groups are forced to sell god in order to be attractive to religious consumers More and more religions are seen as brands that have to be recognizable to their members and the general public What does this do to religion How do religious groups and believers react What is the consequence for society as a whole This book brings together some of the best international specialists from marketing sociology and economics in order to answer these and similar questions The interdisciplinary book treats new developments in three fields that have hitherto evolved rather independently the commoditization of religion the link between religion and consumer behavior and the economics of religion By combining and cross fertilizing these three fields the book shows just what happens when religions become brands

Orientalism Versus Occidentalism Laetitia Nanquette, 2017-02-28 This book highlights the role of cultural representations and perceptions such as when Iran is represented in the French media as a rogue state obsessed with its nuclear programme and when France is portrayed in the Iranian media as a decadent and imperialist country Here Laetitia Nanquette examines the functions processes and mechanisms of stereotyping and imagining the other that have pervaded the literary traditions of France and Iran when writing about each other She furthermore analyzes Franco Iranian relations by exploring the literary traditions of this relationship the ways in which these have affected individual authors and how they reflect socio political realities With themes that feed into popular debates about the nature of Orientalism and Occidentalism and how the two interact this book will be vital for researchers of Middle Eastern literature and its relationship with writings from the West as well as those working on the cultures of the Middle East

The i-zation of Society, Religion, and Neoliberal Post-Secularism Adam Possamai, 2017-10-30 This book explores the elective affinity of religion and post secularism with neoliberalism With the help of digital capitalism neoliberalism dominates more and more all aspects of life and religion is not left unaffected While some faith groups are embracing this hegemony and others are simply following the signs of the times changes have been so significant that religion is no longer what it used to be Linking theories from Fredric Jameson and George Ritzer this book presents the argument that our present society is going through a process of i zation in which 1 capitalism dominates not only our outer social lives through for example global capitalism but also our inner personal lives through its expansion in the digital world facilitated by various i technology applications 2 the McDonaldization process has now been normalized and 3 religiosity has been standardized Reviewing the new inequalities present in this i society the book considers their impact on Jurgen Habermas s project of post secularism and appraises the roles that various religions may have in supporting and or countering this process It concludes by arguing that Habermas s post secular project will occur but that paradoxically the religious message s will be instrumentalized for capitalist purposes

Beyond Feminism and Islamism Doris H. Gray, 2012-11-08 Are women in North Africa and the Middle East feminist Or is being a Muslim incompatible with feminism Is there such a thing as Islamic feminism Through interviews with Moroccan activists and jurists both male and female and by situating these interviews within their socio political and economic contexts Doris Gray addresses these questions By doing so she attempts to move beyond the simple bifurcation of feminist and Islamist to look at the many facets of internal gender discourse within one Muslim country allowing for a more nuanced understanding of the discussion on women's rights in the Muslim world in general. The status and the role of women is one of the most hotly debated topics throughout the Middle East and North Africa and this is particularly visible through this discussion of what it means to engage with and promote feminist thought and actions in the region. Routledge International Handbook of Religion in Global Society Jayeel

Cornelio, François Gauthier, Tuomas Martikainen, Linda Woodhead, 2020-11-29 Like any other subject the study of religion is a child of its time. Shaped and forged over the course of the twentieth century it has reflected the interests and political situation of the world at the time. As the twenty first century unfolds it is undergoing a major transition along with religion itself. This volume showcases new work and new approaches to religion which work across boundaries of religious tradition, academic discipline and region. The influence of globalizing processes has been evident in social and cultural networking by way of new media like the internet in the extensive power of global capitalism and in the increasing influence of international bodies and legal instruments. Religion has been changing and adapting too. This handbook offers fresh insights on the dynamic reality of religion in global societies today by underscoring transformations in eight key areas: Market and Branding, Contemporary Ethics and Virtues, Intimate Identities, Transnational Movements, Diasporic Communities, Responses to Diversity, National Tensions and Reflections on Religion. These themes demonstrate the handbook's new topics and approaches that move beyond existing agendas. Bringing together scholars of all ages and stages of career from around the world, the handbook showcases the dynamism of religion in global societies. It is an accessible introduction to new ways of approaching the study of religion practically, theoretically and geographically. Religions, Nations, and Transnationalism in Multiple Modernities Patrick Michel, Adam Possamai, Bryan S. Turner, 2017-04-20 This edited book explores the impact of globalisation on the relationship between religion and politics, religion and nation, religion and nationalism and the impact that transnationalism has on religious groups. In a post Westphalian and transnational world with increased international communication and transportation, a plethora of new religious recompositions. Religions now take part in a network society that cuts across borders. This collection, through its analysis of historical and contemporary case studies, explores the growth of both national and transnational religious movements and their dealings with the various versions of modernity that they encounter. It considers trends of religious revitalisation and secularisation and processes of nationalism and transnationalism through the prism of the theory of multiple modernities, acknowledging both its pluralist world view but also the argument that its definition of modernity is often so inclusive as to lose coherence. Providing a cutting edge take on 21st century religion and globalization, this volume is a key read for all scholars of religion, secularisation and transnationalism.
