Latoya Ruby Frazier The Notion Of Family:

LaToya Ruby Frazier: the Notion of Family LaToya Ruby Frazier, 2016 Now available in a paperback edition LaToya Ruby Frazier's award winning first book The Notion of Family offers an incisive exploration of the legacy of racism and economic decline in America's small towns as embodied by her hometown of Braddock Pennsylvania The work also considers the impact of that decline on the community and on her family creating a statement both personal and truly political an intervention in the histories and narratives of the region Frazier has compellingly set her story of three generations her Grandma Ruby her mother and herself against larger questions of civic belonging and responsibility The work documents her own struggles and interactions with family and the expectations of community and includes the documentation of the demise of Braddock's only hospital reinforcing the idea that the history of a place is frequently written on the body as well as the landscape With The Notion of Family Frazier knowingly acknowledges and expands upon the traditions of classic black and white documentary photography enlisting the participation of her family and her mother in particular In the creation of these collaborative works Frazier reinforces the idea of art and image making as a transformative act a means of resetting traditional power dynamics and narratives both those of her family and of the community at large

Latoya Ruby Frazier - the Notion of Family Lesley A. Martin, 2016 Latoya Ruby Frazier: The Notion of Family (Signed Edition), 2014-11-30 In this her first book LaToya Ruby Frazier born 1982 offers an incisive exploration of the legacy of racism and economic decline in America's small towns as embodied by Braddock Pennsylvania Frazier's hometown The work also considers the impact of that decline on the community and on her family creating a statement both personal and truly political an intervention in the histories and narratives of the region that are dominated by stories of Andrew Carnegie and Pittsburgh's industrial past but largely ignore those of black families and the working classes Frazier has set her story of three generations her Grandma Ruby her mother and herself against larger questions of civic belonging and responsibility The work also documents the demise of Braddock's only hospital reinforcing the idea that the history of a place is frequently written on the body as well as the landscape With The Notion of Family Frazier knowingly acknowledges and expands upon the traditions of classic black and white documentary photography enlisting the participation of her family and her mother in particular As Frazier says her mother is co author artist photographer and subject Our relationship primarily exists through a process of making images together I see beauty in all her imperfections and abuse Frazier's work reinforces the idea of image making as a transformative act a means of resetting traditional power dynamics and narratives both those of her family and those of the community at large Frazier is a 2014 Guggenheim fellow

The Image of Environmental Harm in American Social Documentary Photography Chris Balaschak, 2021-03-03 With an emphasis on photographic works that offer new perspectives on the history of American social documentary this book considers a history of politically engaged photography that may serve as models for the representation of impending environmental injustices Chris Balaschak examines histories of American photography the environmental movement as well as the industrial and postindustrial economic conditions of the United States in the 20th century With particular attention to a material history of photography focused on the display and dissemination of documentary images through print media and exhibitions the work considered places emphasis on the depiction of communities and places harmed by industrialized capitalism The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history visual studies photography ecocriticism environmental humanities media studies culture studies and visual rhetoric

Reclaiming Time Isaiah Matthew Wooden, 2025-03-15 Showing how twenty first century Black theater and media arts challenge dominant conceptualizations of time Reclaiming Time Race Temporality and Black Expressive Culture examines works by contemporary Black artists in multiple media drama film performance art and photography that trouble dominant conceptualizations and normative configurations of time in relation to race in the twenty first century Isaiah Matthew Wooden explores the ways in which an intentional and sometimes ludic engagement with time and temporality has enabled these artists to probe urgent questions and themes concerning the conditions of contemporary Black life Wooden surveys a diverse array of performance based and visual texts to explore the rich practices of contemporary Black expressive culture dramatic works by playwrights Eisa Davis Tarell Alvin McCraney and Robert O Hara performance art and photography by visual artists Jefferson Pinder and LaToya Ruby Frazier and feature length cinema by director producer Tanya Hamilton These works expose normative time as specious and evidence the transformative potential in honing practices of Black temporal experimentation and intervention By putting this cross disciplinary set of texts in conversation with each other Wooden sheds new light on the shrewd ways that they each reflect an investment in unbinding time from the exigencies of normativity and teleology as well as on their shared commitments to reclaiming time to reimagine and represent Blackness in all its multiplicities

Depth Effects Brooke Belisle, 2024-01-09 In this bold rewriting of visual culture Brooke Belisle uses dimensionality to rethink the history and theory of media aesthetics With Depth Effects she traces AI enabled techniques of computational imaging back to spatial strategies of early photography analyzing everyday smartphone apps by way of almost forgotten media forms Drawing on the work of Maurice Merleau Ponty Belisle explores depth both as a problem of visual representation how can flat images depict a voluminous world and as a philosophical paradox how do things cohere beyond the limits of our view She explains how today's depth effects continue colonialist ambitions toward totalizing ways of seeing But she also shows how artists stage dimensionality to articulate what remains invisible and irreducible

Capitalism and the Camera Kevin Coleman, Daniel James, 2021-05-11 A provocative exploration of photography's relationship to capitalism from leading theorists of visual culture Photography was invented between the publication of Adam Smith's The Wealth of Nations and Karl Marx and Frederick Engels's The Communist Manifesto Taking the intertwined development of capitalism and the camera as their starting point the essays in Capitalism and the Camera investigate the relationship between capitalist accumulation and the photographic image and ask whether photography might allow us to refuse capitalism's violence and if so how. Drawn together in productive disagreement, the essays in this collection explore the relationship of photography to resource extraction and capital accumulation from 1492 to the postcolonial, the camera's potential to make visible critical understandings of capitalist production and society, especially economies of class and desire, and propose ways that the camera and the image can be used to build cultural and political counterpublics from which a democratic struggle against capitalism might emerge. With essays by Ariella A. Sha Azoulay, Siobhan Angus, Kajri Jain, Walter Benn Michaels, T. J. Clark, John Paul Ricco, Blake Stimson, Chris Stolarski, Tong Lam, and Jacob Emery. Scholars and Their Kin Stéphane Gerson, 2025-02-19. Spotlights historians who have embraced the methodological, practical, and ethical challenges of writing about the most slippery of subjects: their own families. Historians have often been discouraged from writing about their relatives, subjects who are deemed too close for objective analysis. But new work by scholars interested in their own families raises fascinating questions about subjectivity and how historians might put it to use. It also invites historians to abandon traditional aspects of academic writing and draw instead on literary forms more equipped to highlight the relationships between scholar and material, feeling and reason. Scholars and Their Kin embraces diverse approaches to such writing, bringing into the open the personal, professional, and historiographic complexities that ensue when scholars write intimate yet self-aware histories about their families. The first book devoted to this genre, which editor Stéphane Gerson terms personal family history, this anthology features ten essays and an afterword by scholars working in this vein. The contributors, varied in their disciplines, themes, and nationalities, reflect on their motivations and methodological choices, the politics of family history, and the institutional constraints they have sometimes faced. Making full use of the creative possibilities of voice and form, they expand the literary ambitions of personal family history, provide readers with narrative models, and address questions of shame, responsibility, love, gendered and racial violence, family archives, as well as the tall tales, myths, misrepresentations, memories, and omissions that suffuse family lives. Scholars and Their Kin will interest historians, scholars in other disciplines, and readers interested in family histories that open broader worlds. LaToya Ruby Frazier Christophe Gallois, 2019. LaToya Ruby Frazier's intimate photographs of working-class families in the former steelworking and coalmining hubs of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and Borinage, Belgium. Frazier, born 1982, portraits reflect both a political engagement with and a personal investment in her subject matter. This book presents her seminal series The Notion of a Family, in which she documents three generations of her own family in the suburbs of Pittsburgh, alongside two more recent projects: On the Making of Steel (Genesis, Sandra Gould Ford, 2017), made in close collaboration with artist and steelworker Sandra Gould Ford, and Et des terrils un arbre s'élève (2016-17), made with the people of Mons in Borinage, Belgium, once home to a coalmine. Following a long tradition of photography as a tool for political activism, Frazier's intimate photographs provide insight into the daily lives of those most affected by the industries' decline. The Pittsburgh Anthology Eric Boyd, 2015-09-01. Characterizing a place can be an elusive project, but The Pittsburgh Anthology is diverse, surprising, eloquent playful scrappy and tenacious Ploughshares Pittsburgh is ever changing once dusted with soot from the mills parts of the city now gleam with the polish of new technologies and little remains of what had been there before The essays and artwork in this anthology aim for the surprising elusive stories that capture a Pittsburgh that is in transition Contributors run the gamut from MacArthur award winning photographer LaToya Ruby Frazier to 15 year old Nico Chiodi the book's youngest contributor who chronicles the doings of the North Side Banjo Club Everyone in this book writes editor Eric Boyd is talking about the city the things surrounding it all of the pieces have been created with experience intimacy and personality This book I hope will speak to you not at you Because we all know this city is changing We're just not exactly sure what that means Included are contributions by Amy Jo Burns LaToya Ruby Frazier Ben Gwin Cody McDevitt David Newman and many more These voices are varied and quirky some polished and professional sounding some a little rough around the edges But they are uniformly interesting and genuine Pittsburgh Post Gazette What editor Eric Boyd has chosen to do is temper all of the Most Livable City rah rah with essays stories and poems of a grittier more complex nature Pittsburgh Magazine This collection is stimulating for insiders and outsiders alike a portrait Boyd has designed to be from the streets warts and all Bill O Driscoll PGH City Paper

Visual Sociology Douglas Harper, 2023-06-09 This new version of the authoritative textbook in the field of visual sociology focuses on the key topics of documentary photography visual ethnography collaborative visual research visual empiricism the study of the visual symbol and teaching sociology visually This updated and expanded edition includes nearly twice as many images and incorporates new in depth case studies drawing upon the author's lifetime of pioneering research and teaching as well as the often neglected experiences of women and people of color The book examines how documentary photography can be useful to sociologists both because of the topics examined by documentarians and as an example of how seeing is socially constructed Harper describes the exclusion of women through much of the history of documentary photography and the distinctiveness of the female eye in recent documentary a phenomenon he calls the gendered lens The author examines how a visual approach allows sociologists to study conventional topics differently while offering new perspectives topics and insights For example photography shows us how perspective itself affects what we see and know how abstractions such as ideal types can be represented visually how social change can be studied visually and how the study of symbols can lead us to interpret public art architecture and person made landscapes There is an extended study of how images can lead to cooperative research and learning how images can serve as bridges of understanding blurring the lines between researcher and researched The important topic of reflexivity is examined by close study of Harper's own research experiences Finally the author focusses on teaching offering templates for full courses assignments and projects and guides for teachers imagining how to approach visual sociology as a new practice This definitive yet accessible textbook will be indispensable to teachers researchers and professionals with an interest in visual sociology research methods cultural theory and visual anthropology
