

MARK SCHEME for the May/June 2014 series

0525 GERMAN (FOREIGN LANGUAGE)

0525/21

Paper 2 (Reading and Directed Writing), maximum raw mark 65

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began, which would have considered the acceptability of alternative answers.

Mark schemes should be read in conjunction with the question paper and the Principal Examiner Report for Teachers.

Cambridge will not enter into discussions about these mark schemes.

Cambridge is publishing the mark schemes for the May/June 2014 series for most IGCSE, GCE Advanced Level and Advanced Subsidiary Level components and some Ordinary Level components.

The Fix Jonathan Tepperman, 2016-09-20 We all know the bad news Our economies are stagnant Wages are flat and income inequality keeps rising The Middle East is burning and extremism is spreading Frightened voters are embracing populist outsiders and angry nationalists And no wonder we are living in an age of unprecedented irreversible decline or so we re constantly being told Jonathan Tepperman s The Fix presents a very different picture It identifies ten pervasive and seemingly impossible challenges including immigration reform economic stagnation political gridlock corruption and Islamist extremism and shows that contrary to the general consensus each has a solution and not merely a hypothetical one By taking a close look at overlooked success stories from countries as diverse as Canada Botswana and Indonesia Tepperman discovers practical advice for problem solvers of all stripes making a data driven case for optimism in a time of crushing pessimism

U.S. Military Detention Operations in Post-Abu Ghraib Iraq Jeffrey Meriwether, 2018-02-22 Detention operations are vital to U S military doctrine and crucial to the success of combat and recovery missions This book shows that the image of abuse from Abu Ghraib were but one small harmful element in an overwhelmingly successful detention mission in Iraq It focuses on the subsequent developments and successes explaining the standard rule of law approach taken by the U S military and examining the work in Iraq of such leaders as Major General John D Gardner and Major General Douglas M Stone Overall the text moves away from the Abu Ghraib scandal to illuminate a largely unknown successful development in the U S detention operations Following the Abu Ghraib scandal of 2003 2004 the U S Department of Defense scrambled to recover its reputation and that of its troops As the Bush Administration sought to redefine torture military judge advocates consistently challenged such moves arguing in favor of the Geneva Conventions humanitarian practices By 2006 Department of Defense policy stipulated full respect for and use of the Geneva Conventions This development was indeed a victory for American support for rule of law in Iraq as well as an affirmation of standard practices in the detention command Task Force 134 Pressures of war however continued to present their own challenges X-Teams, Revised and Updated Deborah

Ancona, Henrik Bresman, 2023-08-08 An essential work on teams now updated with new research and tools and a new preface X Teams shows how an externally focused team model is the key to fueling innovation and your organization s success You build a team around top notch talent The team members work well together they re committed to the mission and are highly motivated to perform Yet the results are disappointing You re not seeing creativity and flexibility You re not getting breakthrough ideas Good teams build camaraderie confidence in their abilities and a solid process for working together But these internal dynamics while positive in themselves can create a wall between the team and the outside world And that wall can prevent the team from adapting to change and delivering value to the organization In this updated streamlined edition with a new preface and practical tools Deborah Ancona and Henrik Bresman describe an externally focused team model the x team that is even more relevant today than when it was first introduced With their distinctively flexible membership and leadership structure x teams continuously reach outward to fuel the innovation process With new examples and research from organizations such as Microsoft Takeda and the Museum of Modern Art Ancona and Bresman show you how to build x teams that Keep pace with shifts in markets technologies cultures and your competition Innovate by moving quickly from generating ideas to executing and diffusing them throughout your organization Employ distributed leadership to unlock crucial information expertise and new ways of working together wherever these qualities reside whether within or outside your company In an increasingly complex and ever changing world where adaptability and creativity are paramount to an enterprise s success and even its survival X Teams is your handbook for winning

European Dimension of Metropolitan Policies Carola Fricke,2019-03-23 This book questions how policies for the metropolis become Europeanised The book analyses how spatial concepts and political ideas permeate the European multi level system Through an interpretive comparison of five contexts the book provides an overview of the European orientation tracing two interdependent developments First the book examines references to Europe in national and subnational policies In French and German policies metropolitan regions are increasingly framed as being central not only for inter municipal coordination but also as nodes within the European space Moreover Europeanised metropolitan regions such as Lyon and Stuttgart develop European strategies The second development shows how metropolitan regions appear as actors and issues in the European policy arena contributing to a tentative and implicit metropolitan dimension This multi scalar analysis is of interest for scholars and practitioners specialised in metropolitan regions European urban and regional policies geography and related areas
