Klassen, 2015-04-10 This book analyses reforms to retirement policies in Japan and South Korea especially in the context of rapid population ageing A defining feature of the labour markets and workplaces in these two nations and the lives of workers and families is involuntary retirement at relatively young ages The book explains past developments and recent reforms of retirement policies both in the two countries as well as in a cross national comparative manner At the core of the book is an examination of the social economic and political conflicts around retirement such as between younger and older workers between employers and governments and between employers and workers The policy recommendations offered apply not only to Japan and South Korea but also to other nations such as China The volume is of value particularly for those interested in labour markets and workplaces population ageing and contemporary East Asia in addition to those studying retirement and pensions Policymakers business leaders worker organizations researchers and students will benefit from the insights about the past present and future of retirement Politics and Pan-Africanism Dawn Nagar,2019-12-12 Offering an examination of the diplomatic and economic regional power structures in Africa and their relationships with each other Dawn Nagar discusses the potential and future of pan Africanism The three primary regional economic communities RECs that are recognised by the African Union as the key building blocks of a united Africa are examined these are the Common Market for Eastern and Southern Africa COMESA the East African Community EAC and the Southern African Development Community SADC These RECS include Africa s major economies Egypt South Africa and Kenya but are also home to Africa s most conflict prone and volatile states the Democratic Republic of the Congo DRC Burundi South Sudan Somalia and Lesotho Providing a detailed overview of the current relationship between these power blocs this book provides insight into the current state of diplomatic and economic relations within Africa and shows how far there is to go for a future of Pan Africanism Military Review ,2016 Ethical Business Practice and Regulation Christopher Hodges,Ruth Steinholtz,AreteWork LLP,2018-01-11 This book explains the concepts of Ethical Business Practice EBP and Ethical Business Regulation EBR a new paradigm in compliance and enforcement based on behavioural science and ethics EBR provides the basis for an effective relationship between a business and its regulators resulting in better outcomes for both EBR is attracting extensive attention from regulators and businesses around the world The UK Government s 2017 Regulatory Futures Review draws on EBR as the foundation for its policy of regulatory self assurance EBR draws on findings from behavioural science responsive regulation safety and business and integrity management to create a practical and holistic approach Examples include the open culture that is essential for civil aviation safety the Primary Authority agreements between regulators and national businesses and feedback mechanisms provided by market vigilance systems and sectoral consumer ombudsmen This book provides an essential blueprint for sustainable business and effective future regulation Studies in Intelligence ,2013 Government Donald J. Savoie,2022-05-22 Citizens have lost trust in their institutions of public governance In trying to fix the problem presidents and prime ministers have misdiagnosed the patient failing to recognize that government bureaucracies are inseparable from political institutions As a result career officials have become adroit at managing the blame game but much less so at embracing change Donald Savoie looks to the United States Great Britain France and Canada to assess two of the most important challenges confronting governments throughout the Western world the concentration of political power and the changing role of government bureaucracy The four countries have distinct institutions shaped by distinct histories but what they have in common is a professional non partisan civil service When presidents and prime ministers decide to expand their personal authority national institutions must adjust while bureaucracies grow to fill the gap paradoxically further constricting government efficacy The side effects are universal political power is increasingly centralized Parliament Congress and the National Assembly have been weakened Cabinet has lost standing political parties have been debased and civil services have been knocked off their moorings Reduced responsibility and increased transparency make civil servants slow to take risks and politicians quick to point fingers Government astutely diagnoses the problem of declining trust in government presidents and prime ministers have failed to see that efficacy in government is tied to well performing institutions

International Arbitration in the Energy Sector Maxi Scherer, 2018-02-22 Disputes in the energy and natural resources sector are at the heart of international arbitration With more arbitrations arising in the international energy sector than in any other sector it is not surprising that the highest valued awards in the history of arbitration come from energy related arbitrations Energy disputes often involve complex and controversial issues relating to security sovereignty and public welfare International Arbitration in the Energy Sector puts international energy disputes into a global context providing broad coverage of different forms and systems of dispute resolution across both renewable and non renewable sectors With contributions from leading arbitrators academics and industry experts from across the globe the twenty chapters in the book enable readers to compare the approaches to and learnings from energy arbitrations across various legal systems and geographic regions After outlining the international energy arbitration legal framework in Part I the text delves into a detailed analysis of the problems which regularly arise in practice These include among other things commercial disputes in Part II e g over the upstream oil sector and long term gas supply contracts investor state disputes in Part III e g under the Energy Charter Treaty and public international law disputes in Part IV e g concerning international boundaries and the distribution of natural resources Alongside recent developments in the international energy sector attention is given to climate and sustainable development disputes which raise important questions about enforcing sustainability objectives on individuals corporations and states Backed by analyses of arbitral awards national court and international tribunal decisions treaties and other international legal instruments as well as current events and news in the energy industry this text offers a unique contribution to international energy literature and provides insightful commentary on the prevalent issues in the field It is essential reading for any practitioner or researcher in the energy and natural resources sector

National Security, Democracy, and Good Governance in Postmilitary-Rule Nigeria, Volume Two Dr. Dan Mou, 2017-01-12 This book shows that the security economic political and social problems challenging national security democracy and good governance currently in Nigeria would get better or worse depending on what happens to the 71 percent of Nigerias population still living below the poverty line This is in spite of the billions of petrodollars that Nigeria garnered as revenue over the past few decades It reveals that one does not need to be a political prophet to predict that if these challenges are not successfully addressed through good governance and inclusive growth this country will witness worse civil disobedience violence revolts militancy breakdown of law and order more kidnappings and more of the citizens trying to check out of the country to other parts of the world in the future It concludes however that under such intense pressures the Government of Nigeria even if it is simply for its self preservation will be forced by the objective conditions to move against the interests of the dominant groups and classes in Nigeria These are the ones who have for long captured and hijacked state power and the resources of the country for their exclusive use There is this perception that Nigerians don't write and read This perception is deep seated even among intellectuals who see our authors as shallow researchers But Dr Dan Mou has debunked that myth and shown that Nigerians can write well researched and detailed books It is quite prophetic in its assessment of the Nigerian State Agbo Agbo deputy editor The Nation Dr Dan Mou has proven himself a world class scholar and an intellectual colossus His reputation as an internationally renowned public policy expert has continued to soar I congratulate him for these remarkable achievements Professor Justice Abdul Fatai Kuti first justice of Abuja High Court and former dean faculty of law University of Ado Ekiti Ekiti State of Nigeria Dr Mou is certainly one of the best scholars we have on the African continent As an educationist myself before I became a traditional ruler I agree totally with his analysis and conclusions I share the optimism Dr Mou has expressed that once the recommendations therein are adopted and meticulously implemented with proper monitoring and evaluation of such resultant policies and programmes Nigeria and indeed Africa would be able to solve most of these challenges HRH Alh Dr Sheban Audu Nizazo III Etsu Kwali Etsu Kwali Palace Abuja Nigeria

EU-Russia Relations, 1999-2015 Anna-Sophie Maass, 2016-07-15 This book traces the development of EU Russia relations in recent years It argues that a major factor influencing the relationship is the changing internal dynamics of both parties in Russia's case an increasingly authoritarian state in the case of the EU an increasing coherence in its foreign policy as applied to former Soviet countries which Russia regarded as interference in its own sphere The book considers the impact of conflicts in Kosovo Chechnya Georgia and Ukraine discusses the changing internal situation in both Russia and the EU including the difficulties in overcoming fragmentation in EU policy making and concludes by assessing how the situation is likely to develop

A Most Tolerant Little Town Rachel Louise Martin, 2024-07-23 An intimate portrait of a small Southern town living through tumultuous times this propulsive piece of forgotten civil rights history about the first school to attempt court ordered desegregation in the wake of Brown v Board will forever change how you think of the end of racial segregation in America In graduate school Rachel Martin volunteered with a Southern oral history project One day she was sent to a small town in Tennessee in the foothills of the Appalachians where locals wanted to build a museum to commemorate the events of August 1956 when Clinton High School became the first school in the former Confederacy to undergo court mandated desegregation After recording a dozen interviews Rachel asked the museum's curator why everyone she'd been told to gather stories from was white Weren't there any Black residents of Clinton who remembered this history A few hours later she got a call from the head of the oral history project the town of Clinton didn't want her help anymore For years Rachel Martin wondered what it was the white residents of Clinton didn't want remembered So she went back eventually interviewing sixty residents including the surviving Black students who'd desegregated Clinton High to piece together what happened back in 1956 the death threats and beatings picket lines and cross burnings neighbors turned on neighbors and preachers for the first time at a loss for words The national guard had rushed to town followed by national journalists like Edward Murrow and even evangelist Billy Graham And still tensions continued to rise until white supremacists bombed the school In A Most Tolerant Little Town Rachel Martin weaves together a dozen disparate perspectives in an intimate and yet kaleidoscopic portrait of a small town living through a tumultuous turning point for America The result is a propulsive piece of forgotten civil rights history that reads like a ticking time bomb and illuminates the devastating costs of being on the frontlines of social change You may have never before heard of Clinton but you won't be forgetting the town anytime soon

Caste and nature Mukul Sharma, 2017-09-25 Rarely do Indian environmental discourses examine nature through the lens of caste Whereas nature is considered as universal and inherent caste is understood as a constructed historical and social entity Mukul Sharma shows how caste and nature are intimately connected He compares Dalit meanings of environment to ideas and practices of neo Brahmanism and certain mainstreams of environmental thought Showing how Dalit experiences of environment are ridden with metaphors of pollution impurity and dirt the author is able to bring forth new dimensions on both environment and Dalits without valorizing the latter's standpoint Rather than looking for a coherent understanding of their ecology the book explores the diverse and rich intellectual resources of Dalits such as movements songs myths memories and metaphors around nature These reveal their quest to define themselves in caste ridden nature and building a form of environmentalism free from the burdens of caste The Dalits also pose a critical challenge to Indian environmentalism which has until now marginalized such linkages between caste and nature
