Bio

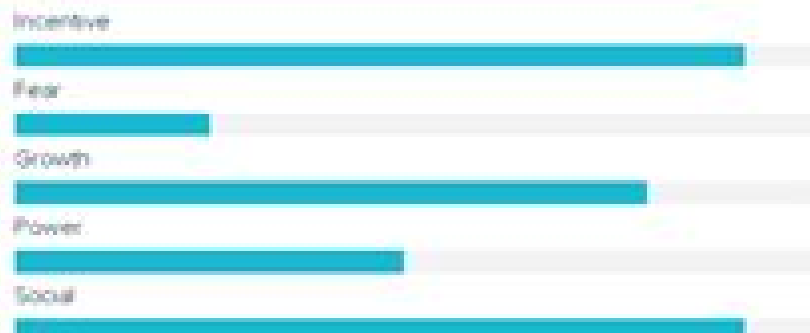

James is a project manager handling multiple projects. Currently his organization does not have a standard practice for managing projects. James uses an excel based template which is difficult to share with all team members. Tracking actual efforts and collating data from 40+ workbooks has become a tedious task over time.

James is looking for a much more efficient way of tracking schedule and also capturing efforts. He also wants to view reports showing schedule slippages and effort variances for handling the projects better.

Personality

Motivation

Goals

- To manage resources effectively and efficiently
- To schedule projects and track effort spent
- To manage project risks and prepare contingency plan
- To bring the project to completion on time
- To keep track of project expenses and stay within the budget
- To stay within the scope of the project
- To deliver quality outputs

Frustrations

- Wasting time getting information: no centralized system
- Manually updating schedules leads to loss of valuable time
- Unable to track effort spent by team members
- Unable to share projects and information
- Too many versions of the project: multiple copies are maintained
- Project team is dispersed and there is no good way to share information
