Progress Note

Prepared by Marie W. Cody, Astra Link Solutions

Introduction

This Progress Note aims to detail the marked improvement and advancements of a patient's behavioral health progress under our care. It aims to provide essential, value-adding information about the patient's therapy process and progress. The purpose is to enhance treatment efficiency and ensure that the individual is on the right track towards recovery.

Assessment

Patient X was first assessed on January 12, 2050. Initial symptoms included occasional mood swings, intense feelings of anger, and difficulty concentrating. With further evaluations, it was concluded that the root cause was major depression. Treatment was immediately initiated, focusing on cognitive behavioral therapy and regular counseling sessions.
